

HENDERSON OPENS ARMS CONFERENCE AT GENEVA WITH APPEAL FOR PEACE

English Spokesman, Who Is Acting Chairman, Tells Delegates "I Refuse to Contemplate Even the Possibility of Failure."

64 NATIONS TAKE PART IN PARLEY First Session Is Delayed Hour While League Council Meets to Consider Problem Facing It in the Far East.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Feb. 2.—The World Disarmament Conference, attended by delegates of 64 nations, opened this evening after having been delayed for an hour while the League of Nations Council met to consider the problem of the Far East.

Arthur Henderson, the former British Cabinet Minister who is acting as chairman, began the session with an outline of its problems.

"I refuse to contemplate even the possibility of failure," he said, "for we fail no one can foretell the evil consequences that might ensue."

The enfeebled chairman, who has been in poor health for several weeks, spoke for more than an hour.

"Situation of Extreme Gravity."
He called upon the delegates to "seize this opportunity" while it is still ours to lead the peoples of the world one more step toward such a land of peace and cooperation.

"At the outset he referred to the ominous thundering from the Far East."

"I feel bound to refer to the tragic fact that at the moment when this conference begins its work we are confronted with a situation of such extreme gravity as that which now exists in the Far East," he said.

"It is imperative that all the signatories of the League of Nations covenant and of other international treaties should make it their business to insure the strict observance of those great safeguards against acts of violence and war."

The conference opened in a more encouraging atmosphere than had been expected because of the united stand of the great Powers in protesting against countenance of the hostilities in China, as outlined at the extraordinary meeting of the League Council just before the disarmament conference began.

Henderson said this conference had three important objectives:

(1) To reach a collective agreement on a practical program for substantial reduction and limitation of armaments.

(2) To determine that no armaments may be maintained outside the scope of that agreement.

(3) To plan for similar conferences in the future at reasonably short intervals of time.

"It is difficult to conceive of a sharper spur to fear and suspicion than the maintenance and growth of colossal armaments," said Henderson.

3 HURT WHEN BOBSLED JUMPS SLIDE AT LAKE PLACID, N. Y.

Two of German Olympic Team in Serious Condition From Crash at Mile-a-Minute Speed.

By the Associated Press.
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Two German bobsledders were gravely injured and a third was severely hurt today, when their sled smashed through the top of "Shady Corner," a treacherous turn on the Olympic job run, while speeding down the ice-covered course at a speed of a mile a minute.

It was the second crack-up of a German sled, and was the most severe accident in the two-year life of the only bob run in America, considered the fastest and most dangerous in the world.

So serious were the injuries to Capt. Fritz Grau, pilot of the sled, and Albert Brehme, his brakeman of the four-man crew, that hospital authorities here did not dare move them from the first floor of the hospital to permanent X-ray equipment on the floor below.

Gräu has a fractured left shoulder, injuries of the left hip and skull, and it is feared his back was broken, as the sled, going out of control, leaped through the top of the almost vertical bank of ice and carried the four men 150 feet into a rock-filled gully. Brehme is considered to be in an equally dangerous condition, with a frontal fracture of the skull and undiagnosed internal injuries.

Helmut Hopman, number two man on the sled, suffered concussion of the brain and a tear in his leg, which required 21 stitches to close.

The fourth member of the team, a massour, suffered back injuries, but his condition is not considered serious.

Capt. Werner Zahn, war aviation ace and head of the German bobsled team, suffered a fracture of the left arm Sunday in a crash on the treacherous bob run. Among the first teams to challenge the 25 curves and banks was Zahn and his three-man crew. Heading into the most difficult turn, the German sled was traveling at an estimated speed of 60 miles an hour. Zahn, the steersman, headed into the bank to the right a bit too high, came out of it staggering, hit the bend to the left too high, and shot up and over the top of the wall, set at a 90 degree angle.

Zahn's sled broke down a portion of the wall and sailed 100 feet through the air, the four riders clinging separately to the job, before it smashed to splinters against a tree mid thick underbrush down the mountain slope.

NEW YORK BANKS ACT TO HALT GOLD HOARDING IN EUROPE

Refuse to Make Further Shipments of Coins Without Investigating Purpose.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—New York City banks have refused to make further shipments of gold coin to Europe for hoarding purposes, it was learned today. For some time American gold pieces have been hoarded at the rate of about $5,000,000 a week. Much of this money has been taken by French banks, which, in turn, have sold it, at a premium, to hoarders.

The Federal Reserve Bank here, it was said, had at no time declined to pay out gold for such shipments, and the step taken by the commercial banks was entirely on their own initiative. Their policy, it was declared, will be to investigate orders for gold so as to determine whether the coins are destined for reserves or circulation, or whether they are intended for resale to Europeans who will put them away, thus sterilizing large quantities of metal.

Holland, Belgium and Switzerland, in addition to France, have been the chief customers. Gold coin is not available on demand at the central banks of these countries.

It is estimated that a way was open for the introduction of war debts and reparations into the circulation of this conference by saying, "None of the problems and difficulties to which I have alluded is excluded from the scope of our discussions."

Among those allusions was his reference to the fact that the League of Nations recognizes that political, economic and social factors are vital in any consideration of the world's welfare.

U. S. CREDIT BODY BEGINS SESSIONS IN WASHINGTON

Dawes, Jones and Couch Take Oath as Officers of $2,000,000,000 Loan Corporation.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Six of the seven directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation met behind locked doors today, after the oath of office had been administered.

Under the glare of powerful lights, Charles G. Dawes, president of the corporation, Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Tex., and Harvey C. Couch of Pine Bluff, Ark., took the oath of office as directors.

It was administered by James L. Doughterty, temporary counsel of the corporation, while photographers recorded it on film and in sound.

Eugene Meyer, chairman of the board of directors; Paul Bestor, executive vice president of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau, and Ogden Mills, Undersecretary of the Treasury, did not take the oath, as they are already Government officials.

Wilson McCarthy of Salt Lake City, Democrat, the other director appointed, has not yet been confirmed by the Senate.

Mills said the board would organize at once and would begin making loans soon. Mills continued for more than an hour during the morning with President Hoover.

The oath-taking ceremony was hurried by Meyer, who told photographers to "make it snappy because we have a lot of work to do."

Gen. Dawes didn't like the powerful lights and said, "I haven't got but one pair of eyes."

"And I don't want them put out by these lights now," he said.

Meyer handed Dawes, Jones and Couch their commissions neatly done up like college diplomas. Jones tossed his into the air, attempted to catch it and missed.

Inquiries about loans totaling about $100,000,000 have been received by the corporation. These inquiries will be answered as soon as a definite procedure has been decided upon.

The corporation selected G. R. Cooksey of Washington, as secretary. Hugh H. Hays, now with the Federal Reserve Board, was chosen treasurer, and G. S. Marr of Salt Lake City, was made general counsel.

$1,300,000 ESTATE RELEASED TO UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Claim of Former Wife and Nephew of Millionaire Settled for $160,000.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The millions yielded by the late William E. Cook to the law school of the University of Michigan, from which he graduated, were freed from immediate use yesterday through an agreement signed by Surrogate James A. Foley.

Cook's divorced wife, who sought a widow's share in his estate of $11,300,000 by attempting to prove the divorce invalid, and his nephew, John P. Wood, received $160,000 in settlement of their claims.

It was said the claim was thus settled because the University of Michigan wanted to begin immediate use of the trust fund to provide new buildings and larger faculty.

The university receives the entire residuary estate. Cook died June 6, 1920. Mrs. Cook had been divorced from him for 20 years.

CHANCELLOR OF BRITAIN REITERATES STAND FOR WAR DEBT CANCELLATION

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 2.—CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER, NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN again formally proclaimed in the House of Commons today, Great Britain's policy of "a general cancellation of reparations and war debts."

"The policy of his majesty's Government," said Chamberlain, "is that a compromise and permanent settlement of reparations must be reached as soon as possible. We believe that this aim can best be realized by means of a general cancellation of reparations and war debts."

Germany, he declared, was bound to make reparation payments by the legal obligations of the Hague agreement and therefore could not renounce them. At the same time he said:

"It is clear from the report of the Basel committee that Germany is not in a position to resume fulfillment of those conditions. It is obvious that when the creditor countries come to consider these obligations that fact must be taken into account."

FEARS TWO COMPANIONS IN MOUNTAINS ARE FROZEN

Youth Reaches U. S. Forest Service Camp in New Hampshire in Grave Condition.

By the Associated Press.
TWIN MOUNTAIN, N. H., Feb. 2.—Donald Higgins, 23 years old, of the United States Forest Service, reached the foot of Mount Washington at noon today in a serious condition as the result of exposure on the mountain.

He reported that he had lost two companions near the summit and he feared they had been frozen to death.

One of Higgins' arms was frozen. Higgins' face also was badly frozen. He staggered into the base house and told a story of two days' fighting against the elements.

He said the three started up the mountain at 8 a. m. Sunday. They went as far as the gulch tank along the railroad but the wind was so strong and the snow blowing so thickly they decided to turn back. On the way back, Chadwick became fatigued and fell. Higgins and McAdams tried to pull him along, but McAdams then became fatigued and dropped. Higgins, in his weakened condition, was unable to move him.

Higgins' companions on the mountain climbing trip were Ernest McAdams, Stoneham, Mass., a Tufts College student, and Joseph Chadwick, Woburn, Mass. They came to the mountain region last Saturday for a few days of climbing and winter sports.

SEARCHERS FIND CAP, COLLAR FROM MISSING SUBMARINE

Signal Flags Which May Have Come From the M-2 Are Picked Up at Sea.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 2.—Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first Lord of the Admiralty, announced in the House of Commons today that the search for the British submarine M-2 in English Channel was continuing without success.

He disclosed that, besides a canvas bag containing signal flags which may have belonged to the M-2, searchers found the cap of the submarine's coxswain floating on the surface, and a collar of the chief petty officer of the M-2. The latter had come to the surface when a ship's sweep had fouled an obstruction.

Sixty-one men were in the submarine.

Defenders Fall Back After Brief Engagement but Tokio Forces Do Not Pursue Them—Fresh Fires in Buildings.

REFUGEE THROWS JAM CITY STREETS

Neutral Forces Don Steel Helmets and Strengthen Sandbag and Barbed Wire Barriers to Protect International Zone.

By the Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, Feb. 2.—Four Japanese 18-pound guns, hidden behind the butts of a rifle range in Hongkew Park, shelled the stricken Chapel sector of Shanghai this afternoon.

The bombardment followed a long air reconnaissance by Japanese planes which alarmed both foreigners and Chinese.

There was a lull after the artillery exchange.

Chapel caught fire again from the falling shells and the darkness was pierced by flames attacking the few buildings left in the area.

The firing began with machine guns and then the heavier pieces were used. The Chinese replied with machine guns and trench mortars. The exchange did not last long, but the Chinese fell back.

The Japanese did not pursue. Later the Japanese said they had been firing on strong defense works discovered by their air scouts.

During the engagement shells from Japanese mortars fell near the British volunteers in the international settlement.

Japanese heavy guns bombarded the Chinese positions, but the only reply was one trench mortar with a 2,000-yard range.

The Japanese established 38 or more barbed wire barricades and sand-bag emplacements in the Hongkew area, manning each with Japanese troops armed with rifles and machine guns.

The Japanese said the artillery bombardment was in anticipation of a big Chinese offensive to be launched within 48 hours. About 450 Japanese bluejackets were landed during the day, bringing the Japanese landing force to nearly 5000 men.

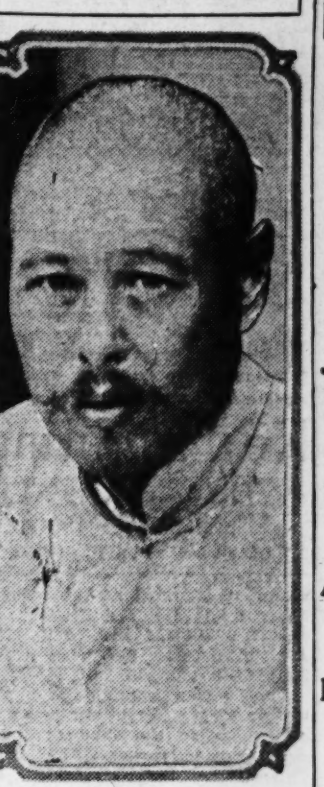

Reports were circulated that the International Settlement defense council composed of various foreign military commanders had communicated to Japanese authorities a protest over the alleged independent military action of the Japanese within the settlement.

Demand to Japanese.
It was further reported that the settlement's Municipal Council had communicated to Japanese authorities a demand that the municipal government functions in the Hongkew area be restored to it.

The Japanese military had assumed unopposed control of the Hongkew district at the beginning of the present hostilities, dislocating the operation of all normal functions of government there.

Earlier in the day the Chinese issued a statement, declaring they would oppose any further Japanese attacks within Shanghai, but they would be careful to refrain from touching the foreign settlement. They declared there were now 15,000 Chinese troops in Shanghai.

FOUR CHILDREN HURT IN STREET CAR CRASH

11 Others Shaken Up When City-Owned Chain of Rocks Trolleys Collide in Fog.

Four school children were cut and 11 others were shaken up and bruised this morning, when two street cars on the city-owned Chain of Rocks line collided in heavy fog near Gibson road and Riverview drive.

Those hurt, all of whom were treated at the office of Dr. H. F. Fancourt Miller, 8410 North Broadway, were:

Clarence Meyer, 3 years old, 10825 Riverview drive, scalp wounds and cuts of the face and body.

Ellis Miller, 13, Rural Route 4, Riverview drive, cuts of the face and arms.

Lucy Grigg, 12, Rural Route 14, Riverview drive, cuts of the face, arms and knees.

Ellis Roth, 6, 10737 Riverview drive, cuts of the face and hands.

The operators of the two cars, Edward Ridgeway, 4283 Maryland avenue, and William S. Sherman, 4016 Washington boulevard, superintendent of the line, were not hurt.

The children, bound for the Baden school, were all on Ridgeway's car, traveling south. Because of the fog, Sherman was running north in an empty car which he expected to use to facilitate movement of the children to school.

When the operators saw the other cars, they were too close to stop on the wet rails. Both cars were disabled and were towed to the Baden shops.

The injured children were removed to their homes. The others continued to school.

J. H. Thomas, British Cabinet Member, Outlines Anglo-American Program—France, Italy and Germany Approve It.

ASSERTS NATIONS CAN'T IGNORE CRISIS

Program Includes Cessation of War Preparations, Creation of Neutral Zone, Negotiations for Settlement.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Feb. 2.—The three great European Powers announced at an extraordinary meeting of the League of Nations Council today that they had decided on a course of diplomatic co-operation with the United States in an effort to restore peace in the Far East.

J. H. Thomas, a British Cabinet member, spoke for his country and expressed the sentiments of the United States as his Government understands them. Representatives of France and Italy endorsed the policy of co-operation and the German delegate made a similar cordial statement.

The American and British Governments, said Thomas, would be glad if the Powers would follow their lead, but in any event the two English-speaking nations were determined to pursue their efforts to bring about a settlement.

Anglo-American Proposals.
Thomas had cited the Kellogg pact and the Nine-Power treaty, and presumably it was upon the basis of these that the United States Government was co-operating with the other great Powers.

The Anglo-American proposal to Tokio and Nanking which Thomas read was:

(1) That all acts of violence and preparations for hostilities be brought to an end.

(2) That in the Shanghai area both sides withdraw their troops as further protection to the International Settlement, and a neutral zone be arranged.

(3) That negotiations begin immediately to settle the dispute. "War—in everything but name—is in progress," Thomas said.

"Shanghai has been the scene of conflict in which artillery and airplanes have taken part. To such a state of affairs the members of this League cannot be indifferent. If we allow it to go on the League covenant and kindred international treaties must inevitably lose the confidence of the world."

Significance of U. S.
"It is not without significance to the League members that the Government of the United States holds an identical view of the situation in all the efforts of peace which the Council has made in the last four months."

The armies of both belligerents must retire, he asserted, and a neutral zone must be organized under British and American supervision.

The British representative spoke with emphasis and by his side sat Naoki Sato, the Japanese representative, poring over a booklet of the League covenant.

Near the Council table was Dr. Mary Emma Woolley and the other American delegates to the disarmament conference. There was a crowd of spectators.

The German delegate said he was informing his Government of developments. Dr. W. W. Yen thanked the Council for China, and then Sato rose to reply. Thomas lit his pipe and turned sideways in his chair to regard him.

The Japanese expressed satisfaction at the "important declaration" of the great Powers and said the

MAYOR TO OFFER NEW METHOD OF HANDLING RELIEF

Says He Plans to 'Conscript Top Leadership, Most Effective Manpower and Hidden Resources.'

CALLS MEETING FOR THURSDAY

'I'll Stop Short of Nothing to Feed Babies and Mothers' in Emergency, Executive Declares.

Mayor Miller today called a meeting of business, civic and religious leaders, to meet in his office at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, and announced that he would have a plan to present at that time for meeting the present emergency, caused by the shortage of relief
funds raised in the Community Fund and Citizens' Committee campaign.

"Through a series of conferences with individuals which I have been holding," the Mayor said, "I have been able to outline a tentative plan of getting the necessary money. It is going to be new, new faces, new methods, the old ideas having exhausted all their resources and vitality in a splendid but losing fight for success.

"I expect to call, yes, verily conscript, so far as I can legally do so,
the top leadership, most effective manpower, and hidden resources of St. Louis, to produce the bread of life for these unfortunate.

"The plan is conservative and yet drastic, thorough but fair to all concerned. I want the fair judgment of the community; in fact, in such a crisis, the city is entitled to constructive counsel from press and public alike. This is the problem of all."

"Won't Dodge Responsibility."

In prefacing his statement, the Mayor said:

"All efforts at raising voluntary sufficient relief funds in the city having failed, the Citizens' Committee, which I appointed over a year ago, has very logically, and remotely reached its limits. If the Citizens' Bureau stays closed, throwing hundreds of sufferers onto the streets, St. Louis will change her mind quickly the next week or so. As Mayor, I intend to aid this understanding in every possible fashion, so that St. Louis need may not be black on relief.

"This is a true emergency for St.
Louis. The Community Fund has failed in money raising, the Citizens' Committee has failed in getting enough money, but the city must not and cannot, fail to answer this cry for help while there is a legal or voluntary means of supplying it. I'll stop short of nothing to feed babies and mothers, and my belief is that every citizen will eventually support me to the limit. But support or not, the die is cast for relief and I intend to see it through."

Ministers Added to List.

Those invited to attend the conference are: Richard S. Hawes, August A. Busch, A. L. Shapleigh, Frank C. Rand, Charles Nagel, Morton May, J. D. H. Francis, Francis Wells, Albert M. Keller, Bernard F. Dickmann, Paul J. Wielendy, Sam C. Davis, C. W. Gaylord, E. Lansing Ray, Elzey M.
Roberts, G. A. Buder, Joseph Pulitzer, George H. Williams, Tom K.
Smith, H. Byrnes, Walter Welton-barger, Louis Nolte, Louis H.
Walke, Archbishop John J. Glendon, Rabbi F. M. Isserman and the Rev. Dr. John W. Maciver.

Representatives of the ministry were added to the group summoned to last week's conference, the Mayor said, "for if there ever was an appeal that involves the very first precepts of Christianity, it is this call to be our brother's keeper.

"In fact, this is a test of our charitableness, our humanness, and our citizenship. I am willing to take up the solution of this matter, but I am going to do it publicly, so that St. Louis will know fully her friends and her leaders when the good name of the city shall have been saved, saved, as must be noted by those who prize security, with considerable safety and protection to the general citizenry while at the same time helping the poor."

No Intimidation of Plan.

The Mayor would give no intimation of the plan which he proposes to present to the gathering. He has not discussed the proposals of Commissioner Nolte, announced yesterday, for emergency special taxes to yield $650,000 or more annually. Both the Mayor's and the Commissioner's announcements were called forth by the prospective winding up of the affairs of the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment, its funds being depleted.

Tom K. Smith, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, said today that the plans for closing the committee's work would go forward.
The Employment Bureau, 2022
Washington avenue, was closed yes-

day, in accordance with a decision of the Finance Committee yesterday. The committee decided the Clothing Bureau, 2218 Locust street, would remain open through this month, when its stock will have been distributed, and that the Application Bureau, 2033 Washington avenue, would remain open until the closing process is completed in about six weeks. The Application Bureau, however, will accept no
new cases, but will seek to offer helpful advice and counsel to those who apply.

Plans Subject to Revision.

All these plans are subject to revision when and if the committee receives additional funds; it was said by Smith. "We are simply testing about in an orderly way," he explained, "to do what we said last week would be necessary. The situation may change from day to day and our plans will be altered accordingly."

Relief agencies affiliated with the committee reported expenditures during January exceeded their own resources by $129,290.
This deficit, to be met by the committee, is $26,000 larger than had been estimated. To carry their present loads through February, the agencies reported, they must receive $183,957 from the committee, about $5000 more than had been estimated.

"The committee," Smith said, "is without available funds to meet all the January bills, and has no funds in sight to meet February bills unless some method can be found of anticipating the money yet to be collected from the recent joint campaign with the Community Fund." About $300,000 remains to be collected from that source, but it is not to be paid until later in the year, as Community Fund disbursements are made quarterly.

60,000 Persons Affected.

Dissolution of the Citizens' Committee would, it is estimated, mean abandoning 60,000 persons now receiving help to their own resources.
Agencies affiliated with the committee have about 16,000 families under care, but their own funds are sufficient to carry only 4300.
Abandonment of the 12,000 families and the cutting off of individuals receiving partial aid bring the estimated total of those to be affected to 60,000.

"Each agency during the current week," Smith said, "will make a careful analysis of its case load, and the group which it can continue to carry on its own resources. Those who must be dropped will be notified that after a given date, which will vary from one to three weeks from time of notification, no more help can be extended."

"The Employment Bureau will be closed at once, since this department obviously can no longer serve its chief purpose, which is expressing the keen desire of the community to be of help, even in so hopeless a task as finding jobs."

Proposed Tax Measures.

The emergency tax measures, being drafted by Commissioner Nolte, would increase the city gasoline tax
from 1/2 cent to 1 cent a gallon;
would tax amusements of all kinds 2 per cent of gross receipts; and require operators of automobile parking lots and soft drink parlors to pay a license fee of $200 a year.
The measures would remain in effect only so long as the relief situation constitutes an emergency.
These measures, Nolte anticipates, would produce $550,000 to $750,000 a year. Smith has said the committee will need $1,050,000 more during the year, so that if the new measures are made effective there will remain the necessity of raising a substantial sum from other sources.

Nolte says the city, which has appropriated $600,000 to the committee during the past 13 months, cannot supply additional funds without new taxes, because a deficit will be incurred in the fiscal year which ends in April.

TWO SOUGHT FOR COLLECTING
USURY FROM CITY DRIVERS

They Are Said to Have Charged 50 Per Cent a Month on Small Loans.

Arrest of two Negroes charged with violating the small loan act in obtaining interest as high as 50 per cent a month from garbage wagon drivers at the city stables, Forest Park and Vandeventer avenues, was ordered yesterday by Prosecuting Attorney Roscan.

The Prosecuting Attorney and an assistant addressed the drivers and told them not to pay any more on such loans. According to information obtained from some of the victims, the two agents had been asking for 25 per cent interest every two weeks a $100 loan. Officers who attempted to arrest them yesterday failed when the two fled.

RUTH JUDD INSANE, EXPERTS TESTIFY AT MURDER TRIAL

Psychiatrist Says She Is Suffering From Dementia
Præcox—Defense Closes Its Case.

By the Associated Press.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 2.—The defense rested this afternoon in the murder trial of Winnie Ruth Judd after alienists had testified she was insane when Agnes Anne Lerol and Hedvig Samuelson were slain last October. She is on trial for the murder of Mrs. Lerol.

Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, Los Angeles psychiatrist, the first witness, testified the defendant was insane at the time of the killings.

"I think that she did not know the difference between right and wrong," Dr. Williams said.

He testified the 27-year-old defendant was not fully developed in a glandular sense, "so that to be a normal person—her arms are too long, her legs are too long—these are indications.

"I believe that the whole picture of her since her babyhood, her actions, manner, that she has done and the way she has done it, definitely indicate insanity of the dementia præcox type.

"Mentions Mother Complex."

"She has had a mother complex—
a baby complex—since she was very young."

Tuberculosis from which Mrs.
Judd is suffering may often cause, or at least be associated with, dementia præcox, said Dr. Williams.

Dr. George W. Stephens, head of the Arizona State Hospital for Insane, testifying yesterday that Mrs.
Judd was a victim of dementia præcox, mixed type, and of para-noid trend, said: "She is of the type that can cry their eyes out over a pet's death, but can slit calmly by and see loved ones slaughtered without emotion."

"After examination, the witness said his conclusions were not based on the assumption that Mrs.
Judd was the slayer of the two women.

"Her mental condition has shown up long before these killings.
In my opinion," he said.

Dr. Clifford Wright, Los Angeles psychiatrist, concurred with Dr. Williams that Mrs. Judd was insane when Mrs. Lerol and Miss Samuelson were slain.

Dr. Stephens said he had observed that Mrs. Judd suffered from irresponsibility of emotions.

"The woman was here on this witness stand, Mrs. Judd sat there without comprehension. She was completely indifferent—indifference is one of the marked characteristics of dementia præcox," he testified.

Handkerchief Eccentricity.

"She sat there, and with a stereotypized motion—another symptom of dementia præcox—she wrapped that handkerchief about her hand from four to 10 times a minute."

Mrs. Judd developed the handkerchief eccentricity described by Dr. Stephens shortly after her trial started Jan. 15.

"Soon after that she flew into a rage," the psychiatrist continued,
"because she had a paranoid idea Sheriff McEdden was talking about her."

"She was hard to calm, but when I said something that struck her fancy, she laughed out loud and seemed to enjoy it very much."

He testified Mrs. Judd had told him of and shown him pictures of himself and shown him pictures of her allegedly mythical baby, and asked his aid "in getting it back."

Also he saw in her possession, he said, photographs of Mrs. Le Roi and Miss Samuelson.

FIRE IN CITY SANITARIUM

Firemen were called to the City Sanitarium shortly before noon today when attendants smelled smoke from a passage for steam pipes between the first and second basements. It was found that newspapers, stuck between the pipes were smoldering.

There was no damage. Patients were at lunch at the time.

GANGSTERS KILL WOMAN, TWO MEN; SHOOT 3 OTHERS

Burst Into Apartment in the Bronx, New York, and Fire Without Warning or Explanation.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A woman and two men were shot to death and another woman and two men were wounded by gangsters who burst into an apartment in the Bronx last night. The killers fled as a child was telling the story to a corner policeman.

Police said the shooting was a revenge of the "Dutch" Schultz Vincent Coli gang fight; that Schultz gangsters were hunting Coli.

Those killed were: Pasquale Del
Greco, 32 years old, a Coli confederate who has been arrested five times in as many months;
Florio Basile, 40, an ex-convict,
whose record dates back to 1912,
and Mrs. Emily Tarrizello, 35.
Giovanni Parrone, aged father of Joseph Parrone and stone deaf,
slept through the shooting and did not know what had happened until the police awakened him.

At least 18 shots were fired before the killers turned and ran down the stairway to the street.

Coli, a 30-year-old man, was shot
by Joseph Parrone with his wife
Joseph Parrone and stone deaf,
slept through the shooting and did

SON OF WOMAN WHO KILLED
SELF DENIES TURNING HER OUT

Says She Refused to Enter Home; Verdict of Suicide Returned at Inquest.

William Wilhite, 4754 Davidson avenue, whose mother, Mrs. Ida Wilhite, 77 years old, died at City Hospital yesterday after drinking poison at Union Station, testified at the coroner's inquest today that his mother had not been turned away from his home Sunday, as had been reported to police. A verdict of suicide was returned.

Wilhite said that his mother formerly lived at his home but that she had left with his wife, Mrs. Mary Wilhite, and that after she had attempted to take her life last August, they had sent her to the home of his sister at Scottsbluff.

He said that she returned to the house Sunday but refused to enter, although she accepted $4 that he gave her. He said that he had been lame and unable work and that his wife's small salary at a Washington avenue millinery establishment was not enough to provide support for his mother. Mrs. Mary Forbes, matron at the Travelers'
Aid Bureau at Union Station, said Mrs. Wilhite said her daughter was also without means to support her.

Mad Dancer's Drawings Presented at Art Exhibit

Nijinsky's Work Displayed in New York—Wife Acted on Suggestion of Jung and Freud.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The at-tastive, rhythmic drawings of a man without reason were shown to the public at the Leggett studio gal-eries in the Waldorf-Astoria today.

They are the work of Waslav Nijinsky, once the world-famous dancing star of the Diaghileff Ballet Russe. It was as a dancer in 1917 that he last had contact with the American public.

Now, at 39, he lives a speechless, shut-off life in a sanitarium at Kreuzlingen, Switzerland, recognized, but saying no word to his friends, his wife or his two daughters.

Heeding the urgings of the famous painter Picasso, and the no-less famous scientists, Jung and Freud, Mme. Nijinsky collected his pictures for exhibit, not, she says, to exploit his illness (they are not for sale), but to show that his creative genius persists through his madness.

Before his insanity, which began in 1921 as a possible result of the horrors of war, he made pencil sketches and designed costumes.
Some of these are on view in the exhibit. With his illness his work progressed from an absorption in masks and designs based on the human eye to abstract patterns suggestive of faces but carried out in only the two colors, midnight blue and crimson. Prof. Jung described the latter as similar to the primitive art of the Aztecs and early Egyptians and illustrative of the theory that "genius and insanity go hand in hand."

They are called hallucinations.

Mme. Nijinsky said her husband sometimes is idle for months at a time. But sketching material and paper are kept always at hand and periods come when design absorbs him.

His memory is not wholly gone.
When music is played and suddenly stopped, he will find the composition to the end. If he sees a picture and likes it, he smiles. If somebody dances—he turns his head away.

Paul Claudel, French Ambassador to the United States, is the chief patron for the exhibit. He has written as foreword to the catalogue:

"Hail to thee, Nijinsky: May God
be with your clouded soul. Prayer may still pass over the threshold
where friendship stops respectfully,
where the twin sisters admiration and pity stand thinking and remembering."

STATE TO ASK FOR DEATH PENALTY FOR EDDIE ALLEN

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 2.—
The State will ask the death penalty for Eddie Allen, who, at November killed Francis A. Donaldson III,
the man his sister loved. District Attorney Stewart Nasse by questioning the jurors revealed that he will ask for the extreme punishment.

There were many venemen who admitted prejudices against capital punishment. Nasse challenged: every one. The jury was completed this afternoon. There are two women on the panel.

If the 23-year-old society turfman had any doubt as to his debute sister's attitude in the case,
that was removed for him today.
Rose Allen, the 18-year-old sister, told reporters she never could forget "Skinny," as she called the man Allen shot.

"My allegiance to Skinny is just what it has always been," she said.
"I feel as if I am still engaged to the man I wanted to marry."

She said she would not enter the courtroom until the prosecutor calls her to the witness stand. As for the nature of her testimony—

Cauley, who lives at 2119 South
Seventh boulevard, was arrested here last month on a charge of stealing $2 worth of washing powder. Police investigating his record discovered that he had been paroled from the indeterminate sentence in 1905 after serving three years, and was listed as a parole violate.

Cauley was discharged in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday on the recent theft charge.
He is quoted by police as admitting that the jurors revealed that he will
ask for the extreme punishment.

came bad, he said. An accompanying flyer, Lieut. Edward D. Hoff-

A search for him is being made.

MANARANEE SHORTENS VISIT
Says Husband, Worried About Far East Strife, Wants Her
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 2.—Alarmed by unsettled conditions in the Far East, the former Maharajah of Indore has requested his wife, the former Nancy Ann Miller, to cut short her visit to her home here and return to Cairo. The Maharanee arrived last Tuesday, intending to remain two weeks, visiting her mother and sister and grandfather. Louis Schaefer, who has been ill. She now expects to leave Thursday or Friday.

"My husband is worried," she said. "Reports in European newspapers have alarmed him about world conditions. He has asked I return as soon as possible." Her two small daughters also await her at Cairo.

URGES LOWER COUNTY BUDGETS
Reduction might be made in courthouse expense and other items controlled by County Courts in order to lessen the tax burden in Missouri, according to R. M. Hulen of Columbia, attorney for the Missouri Farmers' Association.
Hulen also advocates legislative action for the consolidation of county infirmaries and control of official salaries. Illustrating the heavy increase in the cost of county government throughout the State, Hulen cited tax assessments in 13 counties in 1917 and in 1930. The aggregate taxes assessed in these counties was $992,200 in 1917, and $3,149,879 in 1930.

STATE INCOME TAX BILL FOR ILLINOIS PASSED 78 TO 59

House Musters Just One Vote More Than Necessary to Put Through Senate Measure.

IT WILL NOW GO TO CONFERENCE

It Has Been Amended to Increase Exemptions—Levy Ranges From 1 to 6 Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 2.—By a vote of 78 to 59, the Lower House of the General Assembly today passed a bill to impose a State tax on incomes. The measure now goes to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

Proponents of the bill had only one vote to spare as 77 votes were required for passage. The Senate passed the bill several weeks ago, and early concurrence in the House amendments is expected.

The bill provides for a tax on the entire net income of all single persons earning more than $1000 a year and on heads of families earning more than $2500. A reduction of $200 for each child or dependent person also is allowed.

As originally passed by the Senate, the bill allowed an exemption of only $2000 for heads of families and $200 for each child or dependent. The Senate must agree to the increases in these items before the bill is sent to the Governor for his signature.

Replacement Feature.
The replacement feature of the bill would relieve one-third or even one-half of the $30,000,000 tax levied against property for educational purposes, proponents of the bill contend. Every cent of money raised by the income tax will be used to reduce the educational tax.

Direct deductions from computed income taxes will be provided through what is known as the partial property tax offset and an additional offset not to exceed $100 for taxes paid upon a home occupied by its owner. The replacement provisions are incorporated in companion measures.

Personal exemptions to be deducted from net income by the bill are as follows: $1000 for each single person and each married person not supporting a wife or husband or family; $2500 for each married man or head of a family; $300 for each child less than 18 years of age, or other dependent person.

Tax 1 to 6 Per Cent.
The required tax rates on brackets of taxable net income is as follows: 1 per cent on the first $1000; 2 per cent on the next $3000; 3 per cent on the next $5000; 4 per cent on the next $7000; 5 per cent on the next $9000; 6 per cent on all taxable net income in excess of $25,000.

The effect of income taxes in reducing property taxes for educational purposes among the counties is estimated as follows: Madison County reduction, $625,000; St. Clair, $842,000.

The fund derived by the income tax would first be used to supplement the $10,500,000 now in the State school distributive fund annually. The remainder of the fund would be distributed among school districts in the State.

EGYPTIAN TEA ROOM ASKS COURT TO BAR POLICE RAIDS
Says Reading in Cups Are Only "Mockery and Burlesque of Fortune Telling."

Suit for an injunction was filed in Circuit Court today by the Egyptian Tea Room, 212 North Sixth street, to prevent police from raiding the place on charges that fortune telling exists there. The tea room has been closed for the last month following threats of raids.

In the petition, the company states that women employed there have "pretended to read leaves in tea cups or the sediment in coffee" and "occasionally to foretell the future" by those means. The entire practice is described as "mockery and burlesque of fortune telling and clairvoyance."
Previous to its closing, the place had been in operation two years, three women arrested as fortune tellers on Dec. 30 were subsequently discharged in Police Court. A hearing on the injunction has not been set.

SUSPECTED IN FATAL FALL
Two Men Held in Indiana Questioned on St. Louis Death.

Police today asked authorities at Michigan City, Ind., if two men held there for investigation had made any statements in connection with the death of Jasper Errante, 40-year-old shoe worker, killed Christmas day when he fell from a window at his home, 2305A Howard street, while apparently trying to escape from two intruders.

A dispatch from Michigan City quoted one of the suspects as saying he and his companion left a St. Louis beer flat Christmas eve after he struck the proprietor, known to him as "Pete," on the head.

NEW YORK GRAND JURY STARTS INVESTIGATING SHERIFF FARLEY
Witnesses Say He Kept Interest on Money Held in Trust for Litigants.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Evidence that Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, Tammany official, appropriated for his own use the interest which accumulated on money he held in trust for court litigants, was presented to a grand jury yesterday. Twenty witnesses were called. It was the first direct indication the grand jury would investigate the Sheriff, as it already has his predecessor, former Sheriff Charles W. Cuklin.

Farley asserts he has a legal right to the interest and has said he would continue to take it until a ruling is made.
The Sheriff's removal has been sought by Samuel Seabury, chief counsel for the Hofstadter Legislative Committee, which disclosed the interest appropriation and also heard testimony that Farley banked more than $300,000 in six years. The Sheriff's answer to the demand was sent to Albany to be filed with the Governor, who has the power of removal.

Another auction of the assets of Russell T. Sherwood, personal accountant of Mayor James J. Walker, was held yesterday. Sherwood, who has been missing for months, was found $25,000 for contempt of the committee in refusing to obey a subpoena. The last auction of his stock brought a net return of $174. The stocks put on the block yesterday brought $3510.

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 2.—The State Attorney-General ruled yesterday that elective county officers whose salaries are fixed by law are guilty of bribery if they voluntarily accept pay cuts for the purpose of influencing voters at later elections.
He said courts would determine whether there had been law violation should cases be brought to his attention. Officials of several counties have accepted salary reductions.

CONFESSES 3 MURDERS, SAYS HE TOOK POISON

Chicago Auto Mechanic Laughs at Efforts of Doctors to Find Antidote.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Police said today they had solved three killings, including one of a woman, through a confession of Paul Harrison, an automobile mechanic, who says he is slowly dying from poison he took to cheat justice.

Harrison, police said, admitted yesterday he killed Earl Davis, a garage watchman, and told them today he also killed Dr. James Schaefer, a dentist, and Miss Norma Newby, 35 years old, who was kidnapped from her car on a lonely road last March and found dead.

The Davis and Schaefer killings were two of a series of four apparently motiveless assaults which mystified the authorities recently. The skulls of the victims bore the marks of a blunt weapon like a hammer.

Before he made the last two alleged confessions, Harrison laughed at Cook County Hospital physicians who examined him to determine the nature of the poison he says he took.

"You can't give me antidotes because I won't tell you what the poison was," he told them.

In his confession, police said, Harrison told of abandoning an automobile he stole from Miss Newby's car at Jonesville, Va., where it was found March 17. "I left the car in Virginia some place," the police quoted him as saying. "I remember I struck a man on the head with a hammer and left him for dead, but he didn't die."

MOTORISTS WITHOUT CITY LICENSES TO BE PROSECUTED

Comptroller Nolte Says Campaign Will Begin April 1; to Check State Records.

A campaign against the St. Louis motorists who fail to obtain city license tags will be started April 1, Comptroller Nolte announced today. He said that the State license bureau in St. Louis usually issued about 35,000 more plates than the city bureau. Persons without city licenses will be prosecuted.

The Comptroller also said that tax assessors are going to check State license records. Those who fail to declare automobiles on their personal property returns will be assessed double.

An effort to stop St. Louisans from operating their cars with the slightly cheaper Illinois licenses also will be made, Nolte said. He will ask police on the various bridges to take the license number of cars regularly going from St. Louis to the East Side in the morning. Those apprehended will be prosecuted under the State law.

A bill requiring St. Louisans to carry city licenses on the front of their automobiles instead of elsewhere, as has been the frequent practice, is pending in the Board of Aldermen and probably will be passed in about three weeks. Most of the Aldermen have declared in favor of it.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR JUDGE

Kevin Kane and H. L. Browning Seek East St. Louis Post.

Kevin Kane and H. L. Browning, East St. Louis attorneys, are the only candidates in the special election to be held March 8 to fill a vacancy in the East St. Louis City Court caused by the death last August of Judge Silas Cook. The time for filing ended yesterday.

Although both are Democrats, Kane will run under the Judicial ticket and Browning under the Citizens' Judicial ticket, separate tickets being required under a decision of the City Council abolishing a primary election to save expenses.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS HONOR TO WASHINGTON

Hoover Calls on Citizens to Join in Celebration of 200th Anniversary.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—President Hoover, in an official proclamation, today called on citizens of the nation to join in celebrating the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

His proclamation follows: "By the President of the United States of America, a proclamation: 'The happy opportunity has come to our generation to demonstrate our gratitude and our obligation to George Washington by fitting celebration of the 200th anniversary of his birth.'

"To contemplate his unselfish devotion to duty, his courage, his patience, his genius, his statesmanship, and his accomplishments for his country and the world refreshes the spirit, the wisdom, and the patriotism of our people.

"Therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, acting in accordance with the purposes of the Congress, do invite all our people to organize themselves through every community and every association to do honor to the memory of Washington during the period from Feb. 22 to Thanksgiving day.

"And I hereby direct that on the anniversary of his birth the flag of the United States be appropriately displayed upon all Government buildings in the United States, and all embassies, legations, and offices of the United States abroad.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the United States.

"Done at the City of Washington this first day of February, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Fifty-Sixth.

(Signed)
"HERBERT HOOVER."

As the President finished reading the proclamation at his regular Tuesday conference with newspaper correspondents, he expressed the hope that the press would give "important notice to it."

IN STATE SUPREME COURT RACE

Judge Reynolds of Marshall, Mo., Seeks Democratic Nomination.

By the Associated Press.
MARSHALL, Mo., Feb. 2.—Robert M. Reynolds, Judge in the Fifth Judicial Circuit, announced today his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Justice of the State Supreme Court, Division One, to succeed William T. Ragland.

Judge Reynolds was born in Saline County, was County Prosecutor four years and was elected to the circuit bench in 1922 and re-elected in 1928 without opposition. He became widely known as the Supreme Court Commissioner in the case of the State against the Arkansas Lumber Co. and others which resulted in the payment of fines totaling $250,000 into the State Treasury. Reynolds was a member of the State Board of Law Examiners 10 years, resigning when he went on the bench. He was chairman of the board of managers of the Missouri State School at Marshall for some years and was a member of the State Democratic Committee two terms.

HOUSE'S NEW MELLON INQUIRY

Another Subcommittee Named to Examine Additional Records.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Another subcommittee was named by the House Judiciary Committee today to examine additional records in the impeachment charges brought against Secretary Mellon by Representative Patman (Dem.) of Texas. Chairman Sumners said he referred to this group a brief filed by Mellon's counsel, a statement of the sale of the Secretary's bank stock when he took office and a photostatic copy of the cable President Olney sent the Colombian Legation denying any conversation with Mellon over the Barco concession obtained by the Gulf Oil Co. Sumners declined to make the documents public, but said they showed R. B. Mellon, the Secretary's brother, purchased the bank stock.

THREE IN FAMILY FOUND DEAD; POISON, POLICE SAY

New Jersey Doctor's Son, Who Received, Says Father Gave Him Injection "Against Typhoid."

By the Associated Press.
HIGH BRIDGE, N. J., Feb. 2.—The bodies of Dr. F. C. Low, his wife and 12-year-old daughter were found in his home here today. Friends of the family told police they thought Dr. Low had killed his wife and daughter, attempted to kill his son, Frederick, then killed himself, with injections of poison.

The boy, Frederick, 15 years old, came out of a stupor early today and began to yell "Fire." His cries attracted the attention of passers-by. He said his father administered an injection Sunday night to ward off typhoid fever. The boy remembers nothing more until he revived this morning.

The bodies of the wife and daughter were found in their bedroom on the second floor. The doctor's body was found downstairs on a couch. Police investigations showed that all three had died by poison.

MISSOURI U. TO CUT DOWN AID FOR MAIMED CHILDREN

President Williams Announces Lack of Funds Compels Curtailing of Hospital Service.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 2.—The crippled children's service at the University of Missouri, which last year gave aid to 400 patients, will be able to hospitalize and treat 40 per cent fewer children this year because of a shortage in State funds, says President Walter Williams in an announcement issued here today.

A saving of $12,000 from the original appropriation of $50,000 will be made, Williams pointed out. In 1931 there were 146 patients hospitalized by the service, and in addition 252 others were treated outside the hospital here.

The reduction will not be equally distributed between patients in and outside the hospital, Williams says, but will be arranged so that the largest possible aid may be given.

Williams said "the reduction made necessary in this valuable service with its highly emotional appeal to humanity is most regrettable."

Fire Near Prison Farm.
By the Associated Press.
VANDALIA, Ill., Feb. 2.—A large tenant building recently completed, which was to be used for living quarters for officials of the State Penitentiary here, was destroyed by fire last night. The building was not occupied. It is about one-half mile north of the penitentiary.

THE DANCE OF LIFE

If you have read Havelock Ellis' interesting book under the above title, you will recall how he points out that science and art, alike, are founded in the secret rhythms of nature. Science seeks to present these secrets to our minds, while art interprets them to our emotions. So the two go hand in hand, and the great exponent of each recognizes and rejoices in his kinship with the other.

This relation of science and art is often illustrated in modern manufacture—brilliantly, we point out, in the case of the automobile. Here, by a happy alliance, pre-eminent artists are today joined with pre-eminent scientists—craftsmen from the custom shops of Fleetwood and engineers from Cadillac's great laboratories. The result is a combination so naturally harmonious and so supremely capable that the fruit of its labors is something which cannot be pictured in the light of any previous accomplishments in custom coachcraft.

This you may determine for yourself, for the supreme expression of Fleetwood coachcraft is now presented in various models of the new Cadillac V-8, V-12 and V-16. In these cars you will see, as nothing else can show you, how men, too, may blend beauty and usefulness, just as it is done in the works of nature.

FOUND DEAD IN GARAGE BESIDE HIS AUTOMOBILE

Man Killed Apparently by Carbon Monoxide Gas in E. St. Louis.

Paul Aldrin, 38 years old, 1045 Tuxedo boulevard, Webster Groves, was found dead, apparently killed by carbon monoxide gas, in a garage at the St. Louis Forging Co. in East St. Louis, at 7 a. m. today. Aldrin was works manager of the plant.

Val Coulter, an employee, found Aldrin's body lying beside his sedan, the engine of which was running. The hood of the car was raised, and tools near at hand indicated that Aldrin had been tinkering with the engine. Coroner Byrne will conduct an inquest.

Aldrin's wife and son are said to be visiting in Chicago.

UNIVERSITY CITY IS VOTING ON STREET LIGHTING BONDS

$500,000 Issue for Municipally-Owned System Is Before Citizens.

A proposed $500,000 bond issue for a municipally-owned street lighting system in University City was submitted to voters today. Polls will be open until 7 p. m.

Mayor Ruth explained at a meeting of improvement associations last night why the Board of Aldermen is asking for authority to sell $500,000 in bonds when only $206,661 will be spent at present. He said bonds would be sold in the future as needs arose and that immediate authorization of the amount needed for the ultimate system would save the trouble and expense of future elections.

The University City Chamber of Commerce opposes passage of the proposal on the grounds that taxes would be increased after this year (though city officials state they would not be increased for five years), and that the Union Electric, which now provides lighting, can provide it as cheaply as the city.

SAYS NATIONS MUST UNITE TO SETTLE DEBT PROBLEM

Albert Wiggin, Back From Berlin, Declares Bankers Have Done Their Best.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Governments must co-operate, as well as their bankers, if Germany and the world are to be "straightened out," Albert Wiggin, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank, said yesterday on his return from Germany.

He was in Berlin acting as chairman of the Foreign Creditors' Committee, which represents the banks of all countries having short-term credits in Germany. All concurred in the recent decision to prolong for a year the suspension of German payments.

"The bankers have done their best," he said. "The German debtors are doing their best. But intergovernmental co-operation is necessary to straighten out Germany and straighten out the world."

DR. BRINKLEY TO QUIT XER Expected to Return to Kansas and Run for Governor.

By the Associated Press. DEL RIO, Tex., Feb. 2.—Dr. J. R. Brinkley, "great gland specialist" of Milford, Kan., announced today he was renouncing his connection with Radio Station XER at Villa Acuna, Mexico, and would return to Kansas, where he is expected to be an independent candidate for Governor.

He said he would continue to broadcast over XER until his contract expired, although he did not make clear when that would be. Before Brinkley became associated with the new radio station at Villa Acuna, the Federal Radio Commission revoked the permit of a station he operated at Milford, Kan., and the Kansas Medical Board deprived him of a medical practice license in that State.

HOLIDAY AT BURLINGTON, IA. Merchants Suspend for Week Following Closing of Bank.

By the Associated Press. BURLINGTON, Ia., Feb. 2.—All business with the exception of that deemed strictly necessary began a holiday in Burlington and Mediapolis today while officials began re-organization activities for the first Iowa State Trust and Savings Bank, which closed yesterday afternoon.

Danville, Sperry and Middletown, nearby towns, are expected to join the movement to avoid any stringency and possible runs on banks. Only grocery and drug stores, filling stations, schools and postoffices will continue as usual during the holiday of a week proclaimed by Mayor Marquardt. Meanwhile employees of closed business houses will help Community Chest workers canvass citizens, asking that they pledge themselves not to withdraw more than 10 per cent of their deposits when banks reopen next week.

COUNTY TO EMPLOY 30 MEN St. Clair Road Gangs to Be Changed Every Week.

B. G. McCurdy, St. Clair County Superintendent of Highways, announced today that 30 men a week will be employed until summer on road maintenance. The work will be given to men at present unemployed and receiving pauper aid from the county, and a different group will be employed each week. They will receive 60 cents an hour, or about $18 a week. McCurdy expects that about $12,000 of the county highway fund will be spent in this way.

GETS 90 DAYS AND $300 FINE AFTER WILD RACE WITH POLICE

John Crow Accused of Leaving Four Stop Signs, Driving 55 Miles an Hour.

John Crowe, 27-year-old hatter of 2647 A California avenue, was sentenced to 90 days in the Workhouse and fined $300 by Police Judge Eblaine yesterday after police testified to a chase Sunday night in which he had driven 55 miles an hour through four major street stops and one automatic signal stop and had passed a street car on the left.

He appealed. He was charged with driving while intoxicated, careless driving, passing four stops, violating the electric signal, and passing a street car on the wrong side. The officers said they first observed him speeding near Lemay avenue and Arsenal street and that in the chase he failed to stop at that intersection, at Jefferson avenue and Cherokee street, California avenue and Utah street and Gravois and California avenues, and passed the automatic signal at California avenue and Arsenal street. The chase ended near 2600 California avenue, where they forced his automobile to the curb. The officers said he refused to get out, struck one of them, kicked another and tried to take a revolver away from a third.

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair straggled, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or

EMMERSON URGES STATE RELIEF FOR CHICAGO JOBLESS

Tells Illinois Legislature
Hundreds of Thousands Are Destitute, Unable to Help Themselves.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 2.— Citing "the deplorable condition of unemployment in Cook County," Gov. Emmerson last night, in his message to the third special session of the General Assembly, said it was "the State's duty to care for the many citizens who, through no fault of their own, need food, shelter and clothing." The message said, in part:
"In Chicago and Cook County today are hundreds of thousands of persons who are destitute, lacking the bare necessities to preserve life, for whom there is no employment and no means of helping themselves."
"A civilized people cares for its members in distress. In a few days the resources of voluntary subscription and the ordinary local governmental aid in Cook County and Chicago will fail entirely. The situation is further complicated by the failure to collect taxes in Cook County which has bankrupted the municipal treasuries and even interfered with the functions of State Government."
"The problem must be met."
"As Governor of Illinois it is my duty to call to your attention this deplorable situation."
$20,000,000 Appropriation.
Chicago's campaign to convince downstate Illinois that $20,000,000 of State money can be appropriated for relief in Cook County without adding a cent to downstate tax bills was started in the General Assembly.
Both houses of the Legislature received five bills which the Chicago Emergency Relief Committee has said will provide enough money to prevent suffering during the rest of the winter.
Republican Floor Leader Richard J. Barr of Joliet took charge of the bills in the Senate. He explained that while the measures provided for an increase of 20 cents in the State tax rate and for a State-wide bond issue, the additional tax would not be collected, but that the $20,000,000 would be taken from the present gasoline tax.
Several downstate members, however, insisted that the bills would result in an additional tax on down-state property in the long run and opposed the bills. Senator Meents (Rep.), of Ashkum, introduced a bill to permit any county to issue its own bonds for poor relief, to be paid for over a period of 20 years by a direct tax on the property in the county.
Gasoline Tax Amendment.
If the bond issue were approved
the increase in the State tax rate would not be necessary, it was asserted. Confident that the bond issue would be approved, the proponents of the plan submitted a bill to amend the gasoline tax law, so that the counties may use their share of the tax to pay the bonds.
Another bill of the series creates a State emergency relief commission of seven to be named by the Governor to administer the $20-000,000 appropriation.
In opposing the plan, Meents argued that Chicago could care for its poor and unemployed without resorting to an increase in the State tax rate or a State-wide bond issue.
"You have just raised $400,000 for the Civic Opera, $300,000 for political conventions and are spending millions on the World Fair," he said. "It ought not to be hard to get money for the poor."

TWO KANSAS CITY MEN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

One of Them the Confessed
Slayer of Two Officials
Last November.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 2.—The bodies of Sam Bachman, 26 years old, who shot and killed two men last November, and Abraham Tuzman, 27, convicted as a receiver of stolen property, were found early today at the side of a road in Wyandotte County, Kan., five miles west of Kansas City, Kan. They had been shot to death.

After viewing the bodies, officers expressed belief the victims had been taken alive to the place of their death, stood up at the side

Bachman was held in the fatal shooting last November at Justice C. J. Welch's Jeffersonian Club of Roy L. Shepherd, a Deputy Constable, and Mike Katz, a city pool hall inspector, and former light-weight pugilist.

Officers expressed belief the assassination of Bachman and his companion were reprisals for the slaying of Shepherd or Katz.

Foreign Investment in China $3,500,000,000; Britain Leads Americans' Business Interest $200,000,000, Exclusive of $50,000,000 in Mission and Philanthropic Property.

This article on American and other foreign investments in China was written for the Associated Press by C. F. Remer, professor of economics at the University of Michigan. Remer is in general charge of a study of foreign investments in China which has just been made in co-operation with committees representing Great Britain and Japan.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 2.—American investments in China amount to about $200,000,000 at the present time. There is in addition about $50,000,000 worth of American mission and philanthropic property in China which I do not regard as an investment at all. It is rather, in the long run, a gift to the Chinese people.

Of the $200,000,000 of real investment, $45,000,000 consists of investment in Chinese Government securities and the obligations of the Chinese Government. The bulk of the investment, $155,000,000, is direct business investment, that is, it is the property of American corporations, firms and business men in China. No less than 65 per cent of the business investment of the Americans is in Shanghai.

How Money Is Invested.
In other words, Americans hold in Shanghai land, buildings, stocks of goods and advances by American banks to Chinese to the amount of about $100,000,000. Of this business investment, 32 per cent is in the export and import business (including the sale of petroleum and its products), 23 per cent in public utilities, 17 per cent in banking and finance, and 14 per cent in manufacturing.

Twenty-eight American firms own factories in Shanghai worth about $11,000,000. Americans own public utilities in Shanghai worth about $35,000,000. This includes the electric light and power plant, of the Foreign Settlement and the telephone system. American holdings in China are about four times what they were at the beginning of the World War, but at the same time the total American investment in China is only about 2 per cent of the investments of the United States in foreign countries.

Britain and Japan First.
The nations of first importance are Great Britain and Japan. The estimate of the total investment of Great Britain is $1,266,000,000, and of Japan $1,153,000,000. In each case the total is about five times that of the United States. In the British case, about 5 per cent of her total foreign investment is in China, and China accounts for about 50 per cent of Japan's foreign investments.

The total foreign investment in China is estimated at $3,500,000,000. One-third of this is in Shanghai, one-third in Manchuria and one-

BOY IN SERIOUS CONDITION AFTER FALLING INTO POND

Bucky Strickland Suffering From Exposure After Going Through Ice in Lyon Park.

Bucky, 5-year-old son of Hubert M. Strickland, of 2622 A. Kookuk street, is in a serious condition at city hospital suffering from exposure resulting from a fall yesterday through the ice in a pond in Lyon Park, Broadway and Arsenal street.

A policeman found Bucky, exhausted, in Benton Park, about half a mile from Lyon Park. With him was 14-year-old Preston Claypool of 4002A South Broadway, who told the policeman they had run that far toward home "to keep Bucky warm."

"We were playing marbles in Lyon Park," Preston related, "and some of the marbles rolled out on the ice. Bucky went after them and fell through. Then a man came along and waded in and got Bucky. He didn't say who he was. I kept Bucky running so he wouldn't get cold."

TWO ARMY FLYERS MISSING Disappear on Trip from Glendale, Cal., to San Francisco.
By the Associated Press, SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—A search was ordered today for Lieut. Edward D. Hoffman, Austin, Tex., and Lieut. William A. Cooke Jr., Tacoma, Wash., who disappeared yesterday with an army observation plane on a flight from Glendale to San Francisco.

Flying conditions were not good and all commercial planes were grounded. Two hours after the plane left Glendale a plane was reported over Visalia, Cal. It was not identified. The two Lieutenants were reserve officers and extended active duty. Cooke recently in Hawaii set world glider records for endurance and distance.

SAYS GRONE PROMISED NEPHEW $100,000

Chicago Man Gives Deposition
in Suit Against Estate of Former Brewer.

A deposition in support of the $100,000 claim of Henry E. Grone, against the estate of his uncle, the late John G. Grone, former brewer and soda water manufacturer, has been filed in Probate Court and will be used at the hearing on the claim before Judge Holtcamp some time next month.

John McKeown of Chicago, a former schoolmate of Henry Grone, testified that he offered him a position in 1919 and that Henry said, "We'll have to talk to my uncle first." They did so and the uncle, according to McKeown, urged Henry to remain as manager of the H. Grone Soda Water Co., saying, "If you stay with me until I die, I'll leave you $100,000." McKeown testified that he replied: "I can't offer you any proposition like that, Henry."

Henry Grone's petition alleges

uncle was eccentric and quarrelsome, needing protection and pacification which the defendant alleges he furnished, remaining with the soda water company until its affairs were concluded in 1924.

J. G. Grone, who died in October, 1930, left an estate of $207,000 in trust for his sister, Miss Adele Grone, 3742 West Pine boulevard.

Dorothy Mackaill's great-great something-or-other was Bobbie Burns, the famous Scotch poet, and she's as popular in Hollywood as golf—"no other Scotch import. She is more popular with prop boys and electricians than any star in the chin-ema city. Her favorite pet is a Brazilian monkey. You see the monk in the new FIRST NATIONAL PICTURE, "SAFE IN HELL." Dorothy has smoked LUCKIES for six years, and not a cent was paid for her statement. We're mighty pleased with the nice things Dorothy Mackaill says about LUCKY STRIKES, and so we're making a sweeping bow and saying, "Thanks, Dorothy Mackaill."

New South Wales Flight.
MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 2.—The Commonwealth Loan Council, which represents all Australian governments, has refused to advance $2,500,000 to the state of New South Wales to meet interest payments due in London and New York. The refusal was disclosed after a meeting of the council at which Prime Minister Joseph Lyons, head of the new commonwealth government, accused Premier J. T. Lang of New South Wales of failing to carry out his undertakings to the council.

DANIEL G. TAYLOR FAVORS DEARMONT FOR GOVERNORSHIP
Indorsement Assures Cape Girardeau Man of Support of at Least Part of City Committee.
By CURTIS A. JETTS.
Indorsement by former Judge Daniel G. Taylor of the candidacy of Senator Russell L. Dearmont of Cape Girardeau for the Democratic nomination for Governor is looked upon by politicians as a strong indication that Dearmont will have material support among members of the Democratic City Committee. The supporters of Francis M. Wilson, Dearmont's opponent, have been counting on virtually the entire committee for Wilson.

FALSE ECONOMY

If YOU are the owner of a Ford car or truck, and have been postponing necessary repairs or even a seasonal tune-up, you are practicing false economy.

Avoiding needed lubrications, inspections, or other service maintenance—believing a few dollars are thereby saved, is in reality a costly plan—it may greatly depreciate the life of your car, or possibly subject you to unnecessary road delays.

Real economy means having needed repairs, lubrications or inspections taken care of

LOW LABOR RATES

There is no doubt that the natural tendency of the St. Louis committee men would be to follow the Pendergast organization of Kansas City in support of Wilson, but it will be extremely difficult for the local politicians to go against the wishes of the men who have handed over $50, $100 or $500 whenever the organization treasury was empty and money was needed to keep things going.

Igoe, Wilson's Manager.
Wilson's manager in St. Louis, former Congressman William L. Igoe, for many years has had much influence with the members of the party committee, and as against almost any group except Taylor, Carter, Smith and their associates, could dictate committee action in a primary. But in view of the situation as it has developed the informed politicians are expecting primary results to show that Dearmont has had the support of considerably more than a majority of the committee.

Though Dearmont has not yet begun a speaking campaign he has been visiting many counties in connection with organization work begun by his supporters. Strong Dearmont organizations have been formed in Buchanan, Jasper, Nodaway, Andrew and Holt Counties, as well as in all the southeast Missouri counties.

In indorsing Dearmont, Taylor said he considered him "a courageous young man, fundamentally sound upon the important principles of government, such a man as the State needs for Governor." Taylor said he believed Dearmont would be nominated.

The indorsement was given by Taylor in connection with a statement that he would not be a candidate for Democratic National Committeeman. As was told in the Post-Dispatch several weeks ago, many of Taylor's friends, active in Democratic politics, had urged him to seek the place.

Mrs. Faris Unopposed.
He placed his decision on the ground that Mrs. Charles B. Faris of St. Louis is unopposed for reelection as National Committee woman, and that it would be improper for St. Louis Democrats to ask for both National Committee places.

It now is expected that William T. Kemper of Kansas City will be unopposed for reelection as National Committeeman. The Pendergast organization in Kansas City several weeks ago began an effort to build up a following for Frank C. Niles of Kansas City for the place, but that was before Kemper had definitely decided to again be a candidate. The Pendergast "feeler" for Niles was put out only to have plans laid for continued Pendergast influence in the National Committee in case Kemper should decide not to run. His recent announcement of his candidacy, however, stopped the Niles movement.

Kemper is entirely satisfactory to the Kansas City boss.

AGAINST CHANGE IN ECONOMIC RELATIONS WITH PHILIPPINES

Buffalo Man Says Coconut Oil Does Not Compete With Domestic Fats.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Opposition to terminating present economic relations with the Philippine Islands was voiced yesterday as the House Insular Affairs Committee continued hearing on proposed independence legislation.

James B. Craig, whose firm, Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., has a large investment in the islands, said Philippine Coconut oil does not seriously compete with domestic oils and animal fats in the dairy and soap industries. Craig charged that the basic motive of American agricultural leaders in urging Congress to free the Philippines was to secure a tariff against coconut oil.

Representative Welch (Rep., California), contended that independence, not dollars and cents, was the issue. The impression should not get out, he said, "that this committee is considering dollars above men. We are considering measures for liberating 13,000,000 Filipino people from United States rule, and economic interests, while they will be taken into consideration, are not the basis of our deliberations."

TO ATTACK RENO DIVORCE
Lawyer Challenges Law Letting Plaintiff Leave County.
By the Associated Press.
CARSON CITY, Nev., Feb. 2.—Because George Walton Webster Jr., son of a wealthy Boston wholesale grocer, did not confine his Nevada residence to one county, the divorce he obtained here yesterday will be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

This was announced by John Sinal, Reno attorney, who represented Mrs. Nina Webster, former New York stage dancer, in the six-day trial of the divorce case. Sinal said that he would attack the constitutionality of the Nevada divorce law which permits persons seeking freedom to travel about the State while establishing a six-weeks residence.

A FAMILY THAT'S "HAPPY TO REPORT"

MISS HELEN KEASER

that REM ends coughs quickly

The story of the Keaser family's experience with REM could well begin: "We're happy to report." "Since we started to use REM, all seven of us, myself, my husband, my four children, and my sister, wouldn't be without it," reports Mrs. Richard Keaser of 2469 Newkirk St., Philadelphia. "All of us get colds-and-coughs during the winter. Sometimes I have to keep George home from school on that account, and Helen, too, gets a cough once in a while, but REM ends it quickly. The whole family finds it good. I guess Mr. Viner the druggist at 28th & Cumberland thinks we use REM like candy, but there are a lot of us who take it." One member of a family tells another--and REM soon becomes the family cough medicine.

Carl Rippstein, a salesman for the Willcocks Buick Co., 3900 West Pine boulevard, was robbed of an automobile last evening by two men, who had requested a demonstration of the machine.
Rippstein reported that the men entered the display room of the motor car concern about 6 o'clock, requesting that they be taken out in a machine. Rippstein complied with the request, driving to Forest Park at the suggestion of one of the men, who drew a revolver, forcing the salesman out of the car.
The machine has not been recovered.

Ten minutes later, two men, one carrying a revolver, held up Miss Blanche Linströmberg, 5070 West

Lake avenues, taking her purse, which contained $2 and a gold compact.

At 11:45 p. m., two men, one armed with a revolver, held up

nue, and Sylvester Gullidge, 4336

ter address, taking $2 and a watch from Carroll and $5 from Gullidge.

John Boyles, proprietor of a barbecue stand at 1318 North Van-an automobile in which a young machine.

FREED OF ROBBERY CHARGE

John Wakefield Acquitted When Witnesses Disagree.

John Wakefield, 4026 Maffitt avenue, was acquitted by a jury of a robbery charge in Circuit Judge Ossing's court yesterday, when witnesses differed in testimony as to his identity.

Wakefield was charged with being one of two men who entered the restaurant of James J. Demis, 3703 North Broadway, on Feb. 15
and robbed him of $7. Demis said Wakefield was one of the men, but Harold Leaser, 2553A Lee avenue,

customer, John Link, also said Wakefield was not one of the rob-

The warrant charged Miss Han-

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—High seas and bad weather have retarded the progress of the Cunard line steamer Aquitania to such an extent it will arrive here a full day late, it said in a wireless message last night.
The liner, which left Southampton and Cherbourg Jan. 27, expects to reach its pier here tomorrow.

Strapped to the deck of the Aquitania is Malcolm Campbell's racing car, the Bluebird. It will be sent to Daytona Beach, Fla., where Campbell hopes to establish a new

HARDSTONE BRICK & TILE COMPANY IN RECEIVERSHIP

Firm With Quarry at Pacific (Mo.) Admits Allegations of Bondholders' Petition.

John C. R. Felker, general manager of the Missouri Hardstone Brick & Tile Co., which has a quarry at Pacific, Mo., and offices in the Walnwright Building, was appointed temporary receiver for the company by Circuit Judge Myer at Clayton yesterday. This action was taken a short time after filing of a receivership and foreclosure suit by Armin C. Kurz of Stanton, Ill., who said he owned $5100 of the company's bonds, and Edward P. Felker of St. Louis, who said he owned $300 worth.

An entry of appearance, admitting the allegations of the suit, was filed by the company. The Chicago Trust Co. was named as a codefendant, as it is trustee under a $60,000 mortgage bond issue made by the company on Dec. 1, 1923.
The suit averred that the company operated only for short periods in 1930 and 1931, because of the building depression, and failed to make enough money to pay expenses, including taxes, insurance and $600 a year for a sinking fund, which should have been started last year. More than $3300 accumulated interest on the bonds is unpaid, it was alleged.

YANKEES WANT
PITCHERS FOR LAZZERI; WILSON
TO GET $16,500

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Just as do most of the experts, Walter Johnson thinks the 1932 American League race again will be between the Philadelphia Athletics, New York Yankees and last, but by no means least, the Washington Senators.

"I'm not predicting any pennant for Washington," says Johnson, "not as long as Connie Mack can toss in Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg in six out of every eight games, but I do think both the Senators and the Yankees can make things interesting. And with a few breaks I believe either has the stuff to win."

Johnson was particularly pleased with the deal by which Carl Reynolds, fleet outfielder, puts on a Senator uniform.

Only one change in the infield is planned, the youngster, Joe Kuhel, being groomed for first base in place of Joe Judge. Buddy Myer will be at second, Joe Cronin at short and Ossie Bluege at third.

Could Use Lazzeri.

Along with most every other American League manager, Johnson would like to get Tony Lazzeri, veteran second baseman of the New York Yankees, who is on the block, but the Senators have no pitchers to give away and that's what the Yankees want.

The problem of Lazzeri's berth this season was one of the outstanding questions being pondered by major league owners and managers as the midwinter schedule meetings drew toward a close today.

The American League adopted its schedule yesterday and the National will follow suit today.

Two weeks ago Lewis Robert (Hack) Wilson was no more than a discredited home run hitter, somewhat overweight, looking for a place to land. Yesterday, bursting with enthusiasm, the Martinsburg bomber strolled into the business office of the Brooklyn Dodgers and affixed his name to a contract calling for $16,500 for the 1932 playing season.

Hack Wilson Signs.

That is, the document was signed, officially, as a matter of fact, it was learned on good authority that Wilson wielded the pen the previous day. The pudgy outfielder, purchased from the St. Louis Cardinals, came to terms with his new manager, Max Carey, when they talked things over at Martinsburg several weeks ago.

Wilson's contract with Brooklyn carries no bonus clause, said President Frank York. It calls for a flat $16,500 for one year. But, in the opinion of those high in the game, the Robins have done the handsome thing by their new star. Wilson, himself, thinks he has got a fine break. "It's a real pleasure to be with Brooklyn," he said.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Otto Reiser among the world's best three-cushion starts his big drive for the Philadelphia veteran, leading the race with six victories and one defeat, will meet Johnny Layton of St. Louis and after playing the Ozark sharpshooter, must battle Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago, Gus Coplon, Eugene Ore., and young Jake Schaefer of San Francisco, all tough opponents.

Layton last night helped Reiser by virtually eliminating Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, the defending champion, 58 to 49, in the second longest struggle of the tournament. The match went 74 innings. Scoreless for 13 innings, Layton hit his stride and rapidly overhauled Thurnblad.

Schaefer pulled himself out of a slump and played brilliantly to defeat Allen Hall of Chicago, 59 to 44 in 53 innings. The victory was Schaefer's fourth in eight matches, and Hall suffered his sixth defeat in 15 starts.

Layton Eliminates Champion Thurnblad in Billiard Meet

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, who has been among the world's best three-cushion players for years and years, tonight starts his big drive for the 1932 championship.

The Philadelphia veteran, leading the race with six victories and one defeat, will meet Johnny Layton of St. Louis and after playing the Ozark sharpshooter, must battle Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago, Gus Copulos, Eugene, Ore., and young Jake Schaefer of San Francisco, all tough opponents.

In the first night game, Layton of Chicago, the defending champion, 50 to 40, in the second longest struggle of the tournament, defeated Allen Hall of Chicago, 50 to 46 in 29 innings. The victory, Schaefer's fourth in eight matches, and Hall suffered his sixth defeat in 10 starts.

High Cost of Golf.

THERE is one distinction about golf in its relation to park sports—it costs the taxpayers less than any other competitive pastime. According to the table of maintenance costs, its charge against the city is not one thin dime. It is self-sustaining, thanks to the fee system maintained.

Point of fact, however, it actually costs the players who indulge in it a grand total of more than $49,500 in maintenance and labor. And it possibly occupies more space in park acreage than baseball, soccer or tennis.

It also, according to the department's report, is the aristocrat of the Big Four sports, in that its cost per round is 27 cents. Contrast this with the estimated cost per match in tennis, which is only two mills, one-fifth of a cent, and you get a picture of what golf costs the world as compared to other pastimes.

In this report baseball again commands attention as the second most expensive.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely partial measures, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

What, Another World War?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
RE we headed for another world war? And what for?
Disarmament conference, League of Nations and Kellogg Peace Pact notwithstanding, it won't be difficult to stir up pro-war sentiment at a time when millions upon millions of people everywhere are jobless and hopeless and haven't much to lose anyway. If anything, war means a "living"—and perhaps so-called prosperity for a bit. That is all we can expect from a civilization that has advanced to a philosophy of life that aims to get all you can for yourself, and devil take the next fellow.

But where are the voices of the peace organizations, the churches and every man, woman and child who knows of the blood that was spilled in "making the world safe for democracy"? Think of the lives that are being slowly wasted and lost through undernourishment and despair because of reparations and war debts. Shant we ever learn?

Mr. Baker's Weasel Words.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I AGREE with the Post-Dispatch in its editorial comment on the weasel words of Newton D. Baker concerning the League of Nations. The idea of the League was killed in the minds of the American people solely through the deliberate machinations of the Republican party. It is something of a pity that the League was killed in the minds of the American people solely through the deliberate machinations of the Republican party. It is something of a pity that the League was killed in the minds of the American people solely through the deliberate machinations of the Republican party.

Like prohibition, the question of the League of Nations is beyond party. It is something of a pity that the League was killed in the minds of the American people solely through the deliberate machinations of the Republican party. It is something of a pity that the League was killed in the minds of the American people solely through the deliberate machinations of the Republican party. The Milk War.
TO the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
ONCE again you ring the bell with an editorial directing the attention of the public to the outstanding issue in the milk controversy—the right of the farmers to engage in co-operative marketing. Many thanks from those of us interested in a square deal. Federal injunctions have been issued against further violence to Fevely trucks. Although the court's restraining order was directed toward the Sanitary Producers' Association, the origin of this violence has never been proved. Yet it is common knowledge that detectives employed by Fevely have been in the field for months. On the other hand, two disinterested agencies, the Social Justice Commission and the League of Women Voters, have studied the problem carefully and have urged arbitration. The producers are willing; Fevely refuses. Perhaps further court action will help, especially if it maintains the basic principle of collective bargaining.

OBSERVER.

In the Japanese Manner.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
UREKA! I have found my way out of depression. The people of East St. Louis have a large power plant and some coal mines and we should send an army over there to capture them. Of course, the people over there may complain about this, but we can claim that we are only protecting our Fairmount race track from the Shelton gang, and that we will get right out as soon as this is done. In the meantime, we can keep on advancing until everything is under our control.

Perhaps the people of East St. Louis will declare a boycott and refuse to buy our goods. In that case, we can send a fleet of airplanes and bombers equipped for murder, and blow up women and children, homes, schools, hospitals, etc. We need not worry about the business men of Chicago, Pittsburgh and other cities, as they will only send a few sharp notes publicly, while secretly they will sell us arms and ammunition, and spur us on to open this door of trade, as long as we respect their right to sell their goods here also. When we are finished, if we have not killed all of our customers, they will be so terrorized they will buy our goods, and so end this depression.

WM. J. HUNTER.

IT IS UP TO ST. LOUIS.

Comptroller Nolte's plan for carrying on the city's relief work proposes to tax gasoline, amusements, soft-drink parlors and parking lots where a fee is charged. Those taxes, it is estimated, will yield $650,000. There is no doubt that this amount is needed; whether it will be sufficient remains to be determined. The relief leaders think not. They believe it will take a million dollars to feed the unemployed through the year. If so, St. Louis will have to raise it in some way. She must take care of her own.

That is the fact. We have got to face it. We can't sidestep it. We do not believe for an instant that there is any disposition to dodge it. If special taxes do not meet the emergency the citizens who can do so must give the difference. How serious is the situation here and in every other great industrial community was shown during the committee hearings upon the La Follette-Costigan bill, which proposes $375,000,000 for unemployment relief. Social workers testified that in the period of the depression the suicide rate has almost doubled. Insanity is increasing. Child mortality due to ailments induced by malnutrition is spreading. Juvenile delinquency and prostitution are getting out of control. The committee was told of ghastly conditions in mining camps, one of 7000 people, where there is neither employment nor relief. It was warned that unless there is relief, and that quickly, the whole system of welfare work in all big cities will collapse. Is it any wonder that the committee reported the bill favorably? Had the people of St. Louis heard those terrible stories there would not be a shortage in the local relief fund. They do not realize what has happened.

The proposed taxes, Mr. Nolte explains, are emergency levies which will be repealed when the necessity ends. Organizations engaged in relief work, together with the Chamber of Commerce, will say when the emergency has passed. Under the State Constitution, the city cannot borrow money unless it can be certified that repayment will be made within one year.

Mr. Nolte's action was inspired by the disquieting statement of Tom K. Smith, chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Unemployment, as to the relief finances. The balance on hand will last for six weeks, or about the middle of March, after which the work must be abandoned unless fresh funds are supplied. It is unthinkable that St. Louis will shirk on such an obligation to its citizens in need. She cannot do so.

The proposed taxes are what are usually called nuisance taxes. The Post-Dispatch has always opposed such taxes. We are opposed to them now. But theories have to step aside in the face of necessity. The necessity is most urgent. There are two ways to meet it—by voluntary subscription or by taxes. Voluntary subscription cannot be depended on. And since the city cannot legally borrow the money, as the Comptroller has explained, it must invoke the taxing power. It is for the Board of Aldermen to decide what taxes would be equitable as well as productive. If we need a million dollars, a way must be found to get it.

The Nolte plan will be presented to the Board of Aldermen on Friday night. To speed the passage of the bill the board will be asked to hold special meetings. Of course it will do so. It cannot do other.

A MESSAGE FROM "UNCLE ABE."

Representative Ploeser of the First St. Louis District thinks the Young Republicans ought to consider the question of an extra session to redistrict the State congressionally at their annual Lincoln Day dinner in this city on Feb. 12. He has sounded sentiment of his legislative colleagues and finds a division of opinion. All would be for it, of course, if there were a chance of improving the plan which Gov. Caulfield vetoed as unfair. It has been suggested that leaders of both parties get together and try to agree on a chart which the Governor would approve. First and last, there is a confusion of counsel, and it may be that the discussion proposed by Mr. Ploeser would clarify the situation to the point of least of arriving at a party expression.

The possible results, if the election is held at large, are submitted by Mr. Ploeser. We may have 13 rural Congressmen, or 13 city Congressmen, or 13, or 13, or 13. To that variety may be added the possibility of 13 Republican Congressmen or 13 Democrats. From whatever angle it is looked at, it is an uninviting prospect. Whatever the result, the election will be a travesty, the delegation finally chosen will not be representative in a constitutional sense, will be without standing in Washington, and Missouri will be reduced to the level of a political farce.

If the lines of spiritual communication should be functioning on the day of the Lincoln dinner, the Young Republicans might get in touch with "Uncle Abe" himself. His message would probably be: "Tell Henry (Gov. Caulfield) to fling his obsequy into the Missouri River and call that extra session."

A REMARKABLE TESTIMONIAL.

The longer President Hoover allows the Supreme Court seat of the recently retired Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes to remain vacant, the greater becomes the popular manifestation that Chief Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo of the New York Court of Appeals be selected to fill it. Numerous names have been suggested during the past three weeks, but none so often or in so many high places as Judge Cardozo's.

The latest endorsement of this character is that of the Yale Law School faculty, 15 members of which have joined with Dean Charles E. Clark in a petition to the President asking the elevation of the New York Judge. Pointing out that geography is a short-sighted test of judicial fitness, the Baltimore Sun, the New York World-Telegram, the Detroit News, the Cleveland Press and other leading newspapers have come out in his support. Among the magazines which have taken the same stand are the Outlook and Independent, the Nation and the New Republic. The

Mark Sullivan, writing in the New York Herald Tribune, said that it was very likely that every one of the 20 or more judges suggested for the vacancy would take pleasure in conceding that Judge Cardozo is the outstanding judge of the country not already on the supreme bench. How Mr. Hoover could overlook such testimony in his deliberations on the matter is hard to see.

Not within memory, and probably never before, has the opinion existed so generally that one certain man was the best choice for a place on the Supreme Court.

LABOR WINS A BATTLE.

Friends of labor and enlightened opinion generally will rejoice in the change of heart in the Senate in regard to the Norris bill for limiting the power of Federal courts in the punishment of strikers and labor organizations for contempt for violating injunctions granted in labor disputes. Inasmuch as the measure had previously failed to secure the approval of the Judiciary Committee, it was a signal victory for labor when the committee voted, 11-5, in its favor.

Generally speaking, the law regards a defendant innocent until he has been proved guilty. To this rule the notorious exception is the injunction, which may be said to declare the defendant guilty until he proves himself innocent. This would be set right by the Norris bill, which would permit the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes only after evidence has been shown, among other things, that unlawful acts have been committed and will be continued unless restrained; that the complainant is without adequate remedy at law and that public officers, charged with the protection of the complainant's property, are "unable or unwilling to furnish adequate protection." The unprejudiced person will recognize this as nothing more than assuring labor the rights guaranteed by the Constitution, so ruthlessly ignored by some members of the bench in the past.

Outstanding among the bill's provisions is its outlawing of the notorious "yellow dog" contract, through which grasping employers have exacted from employees at the time of hiring them a promise not to join labor organizations. A long line of Judges, who have held the narrow view that the right to sign a "yellow dog" contract was guaranteed the workingman by the freedom of contract, must be writhing as they read the news. The bill's proposal to permit a defendant in a contempt case who is charged with attack upon a Judge in the press or outside the courtroom to seek a trial by another Judge, would, no doubt, have the salutary effect of preventing many of the manifestly unjust sentences imposed by Judges when in the heat of temper.

By the political alignment in the committee, six Democrats and five Republicans voted for the bill, and four Republicans and one Democrat against it. As was to have been expected, Senators Borah, Blaine, Walsh of Montana, Dill, Bratton and Neely were among those who joined Senator Norris. The character of the opposition was well indicated by the presence of Senator Hebert of Rhode Island, who recently voted against the resolution for an amendment to abolish the lame-duck session of Congress.

The vote is particularly timely, since the Senate is now confronted with President Hoover's appointment of Federal Judge Wilkerson to be Federal Circuit Judge. Considering the sweeping injunction which Judge Wilkerson issued against the striking railway shopmen in 1922, it would be impossible for a consistent Senate committee to approve the Norris bill relating to injunctions and at the same time report favorably on Judge Wilkerson.

If these early signs are any indication of what the Senate thinks of Judge Wilkerson, and it is to be hoped they are, it is probable that the nation is to be spared the unwise promotion.

JOHN HAYNES HOLMES' 25 YEARS.

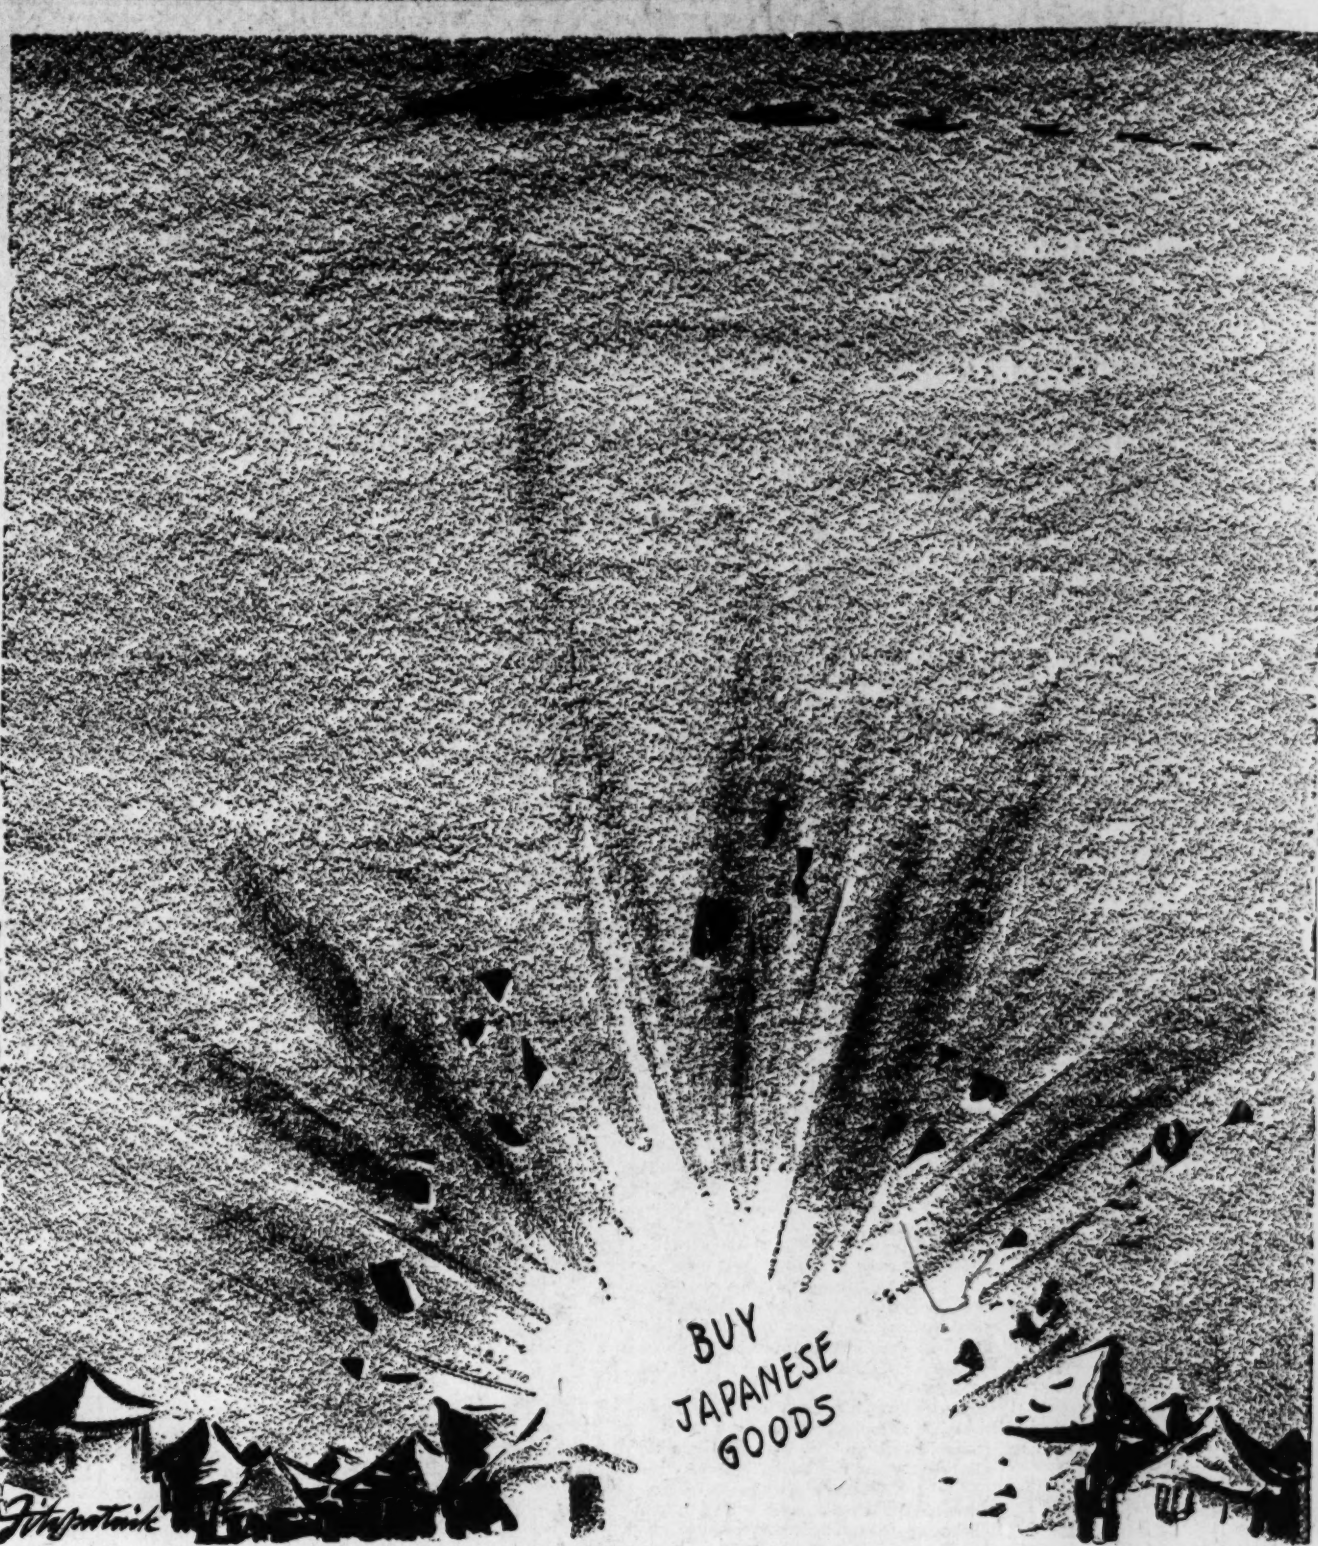

The visit of the Rev. John Haynes Holmes, who spoke in St. Louis Sunday and yesterday, occurred just as he passed his twenty-fifth year as head of the New York Community Church. The quarter century he looks back on is filled with forthright support of many an unpopular cause. The preservation of civil liberties has been a particular concern of his. When other forums were denied, his pulpit could be counted on to uphold the oppressed. It was he who with Rabbi Wise led the citizens' assault on Tammany when constituted governmental officials would not act. He asked for recognition of Soviet Russia when the name was yet an anathema. Religion to him "means a passion for brotherhood, self-denial to the point of sacrifice, care for the weak and downtrodden, an ideal of a better world and a freer life for men, and a united endeavor to fulfill this idea." Such a faith transcends the limitations of denominations and sects, sees life largely and works for a finer mankind.

AMERICA IN THE SHANGHAI INQUIRY.

The League of Nations' inquiry into conditions at Shanghai gains authority and potential effectiveness by this country's acceptance of the invitation to participate. Secretary Stimson has appointed Consul General Cunningham, at Shanghai, to work with the investigators. This inquiry is to be conducted by delegates of the Powers already on the scene, and has no connection with the League's investigation of Manchurian conditions. The Manchurian committee, appointed several weeks ago, has not yet left Geneva. The United States is to participate in that activity in a consultative capacity, but our share in the Shanghai inquiry will be of a direct nature.

This phase of the Far Eastern crisis shows again how the League needs the United States, and how the United States needs the League. Individual protests by various Powers thus far have had no effect on Japan's aggressions, nor was the League Council able to halt the warfare in Manchuria. Now, however, a united group of investigators is to start work at the scene of the disturbance, and its report will have the authority of the world's leading nations behind it. Those who scoff at the League as impotent should be reminded that no other agency exists to undertake such an investigation. A similar body, issuing a factual report from Sarajevo after the Archduke's assassination, in all probability would have stayed the World War.

Participation of this country in the League's inquiry is of great importance to world peace, but full participation in all its activities would be of infinitely greater importance. It is safe to say that, were America a member of the League, thus giving the sanctions clause of the Covenant real meaning, Japan would never have dared to undertake the bombardment and conquest of Shanghai.

SUPER-SALESMANSHIP HITS THE ORIENT.

The American Policy at Shanghai

By Walter Lippmann.

THE most important thing to fix in mind about the present situation at Shanghai is that the United States is not engaged in trying to enforce the Kellogg pact or the Nine-Power Treaty. Its sole objective is to protect American lives and interests without becoming embroiled in a war with Japan.

The objective implies two main lines of action. The first is to act in concert with Great Britain, France and Italy to put enough ships and troops into Shanghai to defend the International Settlement, and if necessary to evacuate Europeans and Americans who may be in danger. The second is by concerted diplomatic action to persuade Japan to cease using the International Settlement and Chinese territory contiguous to it as a base of operation. Further than that it is impossible to see ahead at this time.

The first phase of our disinterested intervention to obtain respect for the Kellogg pact and the Nine-Power Treaty ended with Secretary Stimson's note of Jan. 7. The League and the United States had failed to check the Japanese advance over the whole of South Manchuria, and the Japanese army was in possession of the territory. The position taken by the American Government then became substantially the same as that which it took in 1915, when Japan presented China with the 21 demands. That position is that, while it will take no positive action to oppose whatever designs Japan may have, it reserves the right not to recognize as legal any treaties and agreements which may result from Japan's military seizure of South Manchuria.

That declaration was meant to end what had become an intensely humiliating chapter in the history of Western diplomacy. For three months the Western world had sought to make its post-war peace machinery effective in the Orient. It had failed for the simple reason that the Western nations were too distracted and too divided to bring the pressure of their collective power to bear on the situation. Moral force was shown to be no force at all to achieve immediate results. Mr. Stimson's note of Jan. 7 was a recognition that, since physical force is ruled out, and moral force has no present effect, it was time to stop humiliating ourselves by making further protests.

Why Baltimore's Credit Is Good

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

SUCCESS of Baltimore in selling $4,000,000 in 4 per cent bonds in 30 minutes may be envied in other cities that have bonds to sell but find the market unresponsive. The thing to envy is the sound basis for credit Baltimore has built.

The civic movement that made the municipal business of Baltimore into an efficient concern was inaugurated in 1923 by a former newspaper man, then vice president of the Continental Trust Co., William J. Casey. Mr. Casey knew that Baltimore's $2.97 tax rate was too high, and he proposed the creation of an advisory commission to steer the city's business methods.

A majority candidate adopted the proposal and took election immediately organized the Baltimore Commission on Efficiency and Economy. The personal included men who were responsible for the policy and administration of successful big business enterprises.

tests, and to leave the whole business in such a way that perhaps in the course of years Japan will find it to her interest to square her position with the treaties she has violated. Such as it is, this was the end of our present efforts to check the Japanese military party.

The affair at Shanghai arises out of Chinese resistance to Japan's conquest of Manchuria. The boycott has quite evidently been so effective that Japan has felt impelled to invade China proper in order to destroy the organization of the boycott. Once again it appears that the Japanese commander has outrun his instructions; in this instance he has resulted in a severe defeat, followed by Japanese retaliation upon the defenseless civilian population. The bombing of Shanghai was an act that will long be remembered, and if the civilized world were not paralyzed by its stupid international quarrels, that bloody business would evoke such a thunder of condemnation as to shake even the most arrogant of militarists.

As it is, the West is in a position where it must concentrate upon the task of seeing that the conflagration does not spread. It must send ships and troops to Shanghai, not to threaten Japan, but to guard and, if necessary, remove the large colony of foreigners who are there and in the interior cities. At the same time, ignoring all sentimental considerations, it must seek by diplomacy to remove the zone of the fighting from the vicinity of the International Settlement. If this means, as it almost certainly does, backing up the Japanese demand that the Chinese troops should be asked to retreat, there should be no hesitation about asking the Chinese to retreat. Then the Japanese can be asked, and perhaps persuaded, to remove their base from the International Settlement and the vicinity. No one will pretend that such action by the Western Powers is noble or calculated to enhance their prestige. It is merely cold-blooded prudence, aimed to achieve the supremely important object of not embroiling the United States and other Powers in a desperately destructive war. It is to be hoped that Japan, too, will have the cold-blooded prudence to do her part in averting such a war.

Causes of Auto Accidents

Marion Pew in Editor & Publisher.

IN spite of efforts of newspapers in many cities and vast public and private institutions to arouse the American people to the perils of motor traffic, 1931 rolled up in the United States the red total of 34,400 persons killed and 997,600 injured, a casualty list equalling the entire population of the State of Colorado.

I am able to announce these sickening statistics from information privately gathered by actuarial experts of the Travelers' Insurance Co. and brought down to the last hours of 1931. My insurance informant gave me an immense volume of findings from their statistics. I shall record some here in question-and-answer form: Question—How much are drivers victimized by motor accidents? Answer—More than 20 per cent killed last year were under 15, but more than 60 per cent of fatalities were among persons in the prime of life.

Q—How about types of brakes? A—Among 1,231,400 vehicles in accidents, 24.2 per cent had two-wheel brakes and 75.8 per cent four-wheel brakes. Q—How fast is an automobile going when traveling at 60 miles an hour, if you can make a comparison? A—Traveling at 60 miles an hour it has the same capacity for inflicting damage that it would have if it were falling to a street from the top of a building 120 feet (or 10 stories) high.

Q—What are the most dangerous days for driving? A—Last year 151,000 accidents happened on Sunday, 149,000 on Saturday, while the average for the other days of the week was around 112,000.

Q—What are the most dangerous hours of the day? A—Between 5 and 6 p. m. But notice that more than 10 per cent of the deaths occurred on streets and roads between 1 and 6 a. m.

Q—Suggestive hoary driver? A—Soberly is essential in safe driving.

Q—How about types of cars? A—There were 31,640 passenger cars, 6060 commercial cars, 640 taxis, 450 busses, 310 motor cycles and 10 others in fatal accidents. Q—How about the "terrible" woman driver? A—Not as terrible as reputed. In fact, she is only about 25 per cent as dangerous as her brother. Among 7,000,000 drivers of both sexes, a male was involved in a personal-injury case for every 21 male drivers licensed, whereas a female was involved in a personal-injury accident for every 86 females registered.

Q—How about the age of drivers? A—Drivers under 20 do the most damage, 29 out of every 1000 being involved in accidents last year. Only 18 out of every 1000 persons of 50 years or older were in accidents.

Q—Are inexperienced drivers dangerous? A—No. The vast bulk of drivers in accidents have had a year or more at the wheel. Few new drivers, being naturally cautious, are involved. This is another proof of recklessness.

Q—Are most accidents on wet or icy surfaces? A—No. The bulk are on dry roads in full daylight. Less than 3000 fatal accidents involved snow or rain.

Q—The property loss must be heavy? A—As a consequence of motor vehicle accidents last year, the loss was about $2,500,000,000.

Missionary Here Nationalist Feel

Miss Abbie G. Chapin Se Developed Patriotism consciousness in You

The recent development of nationalism in China is a major cause of world concern, in view of the present situation there. Miss Abbie G. Chapin, an American missionary there for 39 years, said in an interview today. Miss Chapin is visiting her brother, the Rev. Dwight G. Chapin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in St. Louis.

"Twenty-five years ago the people of South China would have thought little of Japanese activities in Manchuria, and the same would have been true of the attitude of northerners toward the Shanghai invasion," she said. "But now, how different it is. Millions of Chinese, especially the youth, are aroused to the highest pitch of patriotism by such developments."

Miss Chapin was born in China, and has lived there all her life except for the years she spent in high school and college in this country. Her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Lyman Dwight Chapin, went to China in 1843 as missionaries. Miss Chapin is on her fifth furlough, and has been vacationing since last September in Claremont, Cal., where she stayed with a young Chinese woman, Miss Chu I Yang, who accompanied her home and is taking graduate work in American colleges.

hear much of a United States of Europe, and I believe you cannot afford to ignore the movement of opinion in Europe toward higher unification. The present organization of Europe is less efficient and more costly than before the war. Customs barriers have been increased by 7000 miles. Journeying from Paris to Stockholm, less than the diameter of some American states, the traveler finds six issues of postage and postage stamps, seven frontiers and five languages.

"The peace of the Roman world, in the days of Augustus, was preserved by 800,000 armed men. After 2000 years of Christianity, culture and advancement in science, 20,000,000 soldiers, with weapons of terrible effectiveness, guard 28 million square miles of land, and 280 million people, impoverished and disunited European states. No good man of woman wishes this to last."

Britain's Many Sided Role. "But there are limits beyond which the United States of Europe might not be a blessing. The day of fate and doom will have come if, ever there is a strife of nations, as in the past there has been strife of nations. It would be a far greater evil than any of the present. If Europe, Asia and Africa should come to watch each other as enemies, France, Germany and Russia would be the first to suffer."

"Here is the British Empire's part. We are a great lateral band, and we cannot lend ourselves to any strife between continents or hemispheres, because we are in all of them. The significance of Canada is that it is not the only link to the Empire, but that it is intimately and cordially associated with the United States. This is a magnet drawing the United States and Great Britain toward itself and thus toward each other."

"The conception of a United States of Europe is right. As Europe advances toward international unity, there must be a growth of solidarity and a deepening acquaintance among the English-speaking peoples. Every stride toward European cohesion which promotes their welfare is a stride toward good fortune; and no sinister tendency can be restrained by our united stand."

Anglo-American Relations. "When in 1918 our two nations began again to write their history in common, Ireland was a stumbling block to good relations. There was a strong, able, persistent Irish influence in the United States. It was a daring step to make the Irish Free State, but we were guided and encouraged by the belief that we were eliminating a perennial source of friction. And we have been rewarded, for the Irish influence is no longer a wedge driving us apart."

"A second disturbing influence before the war was the Anglo-Japanese alliance, that was thought, though without reason, to be a barrier to the United States. After the war we merged this alliance in the Washington agreement for the peace of the Pacific. It was made clear that there would never be a quarrel between Britain and Japan standing against the United States."

"The Washington naval agreement of 1921 removed, once for all, like the last naval agreement, for not as against the United States, but against European Powers and in the Far East; but in so far as the eliminated naval rivalry with the United States; I am in agreement with you."

Prohibition. "We have been more successful than you have been in attacking the fruitful social evil of intemperance. In both countries, an enormous volume of misery, poverty, crime, broken lives and ruined homes have come from the abuse of alcohol. We like you have attacked it by state interference with the liberty of the subject, or as you say, the citizen. But

New York Pastor Declares Russian May Solve Problem of Distributing Wealth.

Russia may solve for the world the problem of distribution of wealth in which capitalist society, successful only in production of wealth, has failed, the Rev. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church of New York, told members of the Junior League yesterday.

The speaker spent the summers of 1922 and 1921 in Russia. The Russian Government, he said, was the most stable in Europe and was conducting "the most stupendous experiment in human relations the world has ever witnessed."

The experiment, he continued, may develop an individual social liberty richer than either capitalism or communism alone could give.

The Rev. Mr. Holmes spoke particularly of the Russian five-day week and of the economic security guaranteed each person willing to work as compensation for the loss of opportunity to amass great wealth.

STATE HOSPITAL'S LIBRARY AID IN TREATING PATIENTS

Superintendent Finds Taste Similar to Elsewhere; Most Religious Books Barred.
By the Associated Press.

NEVADA, Mo., Feb. 2.—The State Hospital for the Insane here has a circulating library of 2500 volumes which its superintendent said has a therapeutic value in the treatment of mental diseases.

It was begun three years ago after the Missouri Legislature appropriated $500 for the purpose. It has grown through contributions such as one of 250 volumes from the St. Louis Public Library.

"Fiction is, of course, in greatest demand, followed by biography and history," said Mrs. F. Grogan, wife of the superintendent, who formerly was associated with the St. Louis Public Library.

"There is the same call for the best sellers and prize-winning novels as in a public library, Lindbergh's 'Wings' was in great demand among women patients at the time of its publication."

Dr. Grogan, the superintendent, said the library is particularly beneficial to prospective patients. "We are, of course, very careful to allow no literature of a nature to excite the patient," he said.

"Most religious books are barred from the library because of their tendency to excite a certain type of patient. Patients never are urged to use the library. To be of value, the desire to read must originate in the patient's own mind."

Saying other patients read and hearing them discuss the action of characters in a story has often inspired indifferent patients with an interest in reading."

Churchill told the story of England's attempt to destroy the deadly cobra in India by paying bounties for cobra skins. It was soon found, he said, that many cobra farms were being started. He told also of the old-time British patriot who went about planting acorns, so that England should not run out of oak for the building of battleships. Before the trees which he planted were grown, the British Navy was built of steel.

The speaker was introduced by J. Lionberger Davis, head of the St. Louis branch of the English-Speaking Union, after a welcome by Mrs. Oscar Johnson, president of the Woman's Club. At a reception after the lecture, Churchill met many of his audience. He left for Chicago at midnight.

Petition to Congress Asks That Educational Activities
There Cease.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A petition signed by 327 college presidents, deans, professors and other educators was presented to Congress today by Dr. George A. Coe, retired professor of education at Teachers' College, Columbia University. It urged the withdrawal of the War Department from the field of education and that it limit its training activities to military work.

The educators endorsing the petition charged that the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and the Citizens' Military Training Camps were being promoted as general educational agencies in violation of the national defense act and the traditional American policy of leaving education to state and local authorities.

They denied the right or the ability of the War Department to offer such courses.

The petition was endorsed by educators from practically every state. George H. Betts of Northwestern University, Dean Henry W. Holmes of the Harvard University Graduate School of Education, William H. Kilpatrick and John Dewey of Columbia University, Dr. Harry A. Overstreet of the College of the City of New York, Jay R. Nash of New York University, Dean Shaller Mathews of Chicago University Divinity School and President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College were among the signers.

The petition charged that War Department courses were used to teach particular views on economics, peace, history, government and education.

"The War Department, through its training in schools and colleges, and in summer camps, is conducting its broad of character education, education for citizenship and physical education—in addition to the military training for which the National Defense Act provides," says the petition. "Without passing on the merits of any particular theory of national defense or citizenship, we want to reiterate the importance of keeping the schools free of such definitely propagandist and partisan influences."

"We have no assurance that those who are selected by the War Department to teach in the general fields of education shall be familiar with either the content or the method of teaching in these fields," said the petition. "In this respect the standards of appointment now current in the War Department are distinctly below the standards that the States and private institutions maintain."

STOCKINGS that wrinkle and bag are so unsightly! Do you know what causes this loss of beauty, and how to prevent it?

New stockings are elastic. Knitted with silk threads that stretch and then spring back again. But when this precious elasticity is destroyed, stockings wrinkle and sag. Seams are crooked. Threads break instead of giving under strain, starting ruinous runs!

That is why Lux has been made especially to preserve elasticity. It offers you a sure way to make your stockings keep their fit, and make even the sheerest ones really WEAR.

The Lux Way to make stockings FIT and WEAR

Don't rub with cake soap. It destroys the elasticity of the silk. With Lux there's no rubbing.

Don't use too-warm water—this fades color. With Lux you use lukewarm water. No hot water needed.

Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens silk threads, fades colors. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

Duplicate Contract Becomes Popular—The Guessing System—Honors Seldom Appear.

—By SHEPARD BARCLAY—

PLAYERS who have had a few tastes of duplicate tournament bridge almost invariably prefer it to any other form of the game. It furnishes many desirable features in addition to the mere minimizing of the luck element. Perhaps the most appealing is the opportunity it affords to make comparisons with others after the hands are played, to find out how they treated the same cards. Besides being enjoyable, this constitutes some of the most valuable instruction possible, for it is "the case method" whereby definite proof is given of the principle involved.

In the evolution of the game all over the country the coming up of duplicate is the most important present manifestation. Contract is already entrenched as the style of play, rather than auction, and lends itself admirably to duplicate arrangements. Each duplicate board, containing a hand, has markings to show arbitrarily who is vulnerable, if at all, and the scoring is slightly different from rubber play, with 300 premium allowed for game in hand not vulnerable and 500 vulnerable. Otherwise the scoring is substantially the same as in rubber.

Probably not as many as 10 per cent of the contract players of the country have ever played in a duplicate tournament. It is strongly recommended, however, to all groups of sufficient numbers to furnish three or more tables of play.

One striking case of advancement of the game, especially in the grade of bridge played, is the Advertising Club of New York. Two seasons ago the big weekly tournament was entirely auction, on the basis of progressive pairs. In the next season a contract section was tried, with almost a hundred hands in the auction. The second half of that season there were few entries for the auction section, many more playing contract. In the first half of this season there were no auction entries, every one playing progressive pairs at contract.

A duplicate contract for the second half of the current season. There was to be a progressive pair section, but no one entered. So now the whole thing is playing the modern form of bridge, duplicate contract, and getting better and better day by day in every way.

An Eternal System

RAY H. EISENBERG of Erie, Pa., has been among the bridge friends in the Middle West for insistent, both through auction and in contract, that the best system is his own, which is to "make my original bid and guess them the rest of the way."

Having followed closely the Lenz-Culbertson affair, he writes: "I have reached the conclusion that my system was used by the sides. I therefore caution the sides. I therefore caution the sides. I therefore caution the sides."

He finds one fault with them, in that they were not dependable in the first part of the system—making the original bid sound.

Mr. Eisenberg recommends his system to all, players of no ability and of great skill, as easy to learn. He says it should be called "The Eternal System."

What Price Yarborough? Mrs. Leslie H. Coloney is having lots of fun keeping track of the "Yarboroughs" she holds—those hands so weak, containing nothing better than a nine, that a certain Lord Yarborough used to bid 100 to 1 against their being dealt.

Mathematically, they are supposed to come to a player not quite once in 100 deals, so he was close odds. Mrs. Coloney got such a hand some weeks ago, and has kept track of deals since then, watching for the next one. So far she has recorded 97 deals without one in 100. Her latest during that stretch was a hand with three tens and one with a single jack.

No All-Trip Discards Albert H. Lederer wonders about the rules for the new all-trump declaration. When it is the contract, and a declarer has the three top honors in a suit, with just a singleton in dummy, can he discard on the second round, or would that discard constitute trumping?

Mr. Norman N. Newman, partner of Commander Winfield Liggett Jr. on the team of four which won the national contract championship of the American Bridge League, writes the following: "I wish you would publish my protest against a false statement which has been printed, saying that Commander Liggett and I used the Ap-Pre-Forcing System, with the One-Over-One. We actually used the Official System, with the Two-Club Forcing Bid and the One-Over-One variation."

That was the first time that the official system, then not three months old, had ever been used in the national championship team-of-four tournament, and therefore constitutes a 100 per cent record to date for the method in such an event.

On Abolishing Honors In the first 100 hands of the Culbertson vs. Lenz match there were only three times that honors were counted. Scoring them has always been objected to by many as being a premium awarded for pure luck. Since in contract they occur so seldom, they are now being objected to, on the basis of unimportance. The statistics of any game of considerable South played this deal at five diamonds, doubled by West. How in the world can the latter, though a star, mislay his hand so that the contract is made?

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff
Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you remove it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of your symptoms of dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and remove every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy entirely satisfies.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Fingal's Cave

THE sea was certainly a wild one and the islands they passed were rough and rocky without any sign of life.

The Magic Maker had brought John and Peggy to the west coast of Scotland and they were on a boat which seemed quite small considering how high were the waves and how wild the wind.

"It's a good thing we left Wag-Wag at home," Peggy said. "He might have been frightened."

"She was trying very hard not to feel frightened, for the waves dashed over the rocky islands, pounding and splashing and raising themselves up in great foamy mountains of sea water."

"It almost seems as though our boat would break in two when some of the waves hit us," Peggy said. "It certainly shivers."

"You couldn't find a much wilder coast than this, could you?" John asked. Somewhere, he was certain, he had heard that this coast was known for its storms, and it was rough enough today.

"Not very well," Surprises, the Magic Maker, answered.

Now they were going down the side of their boat on a ladder and were getting into a smaller one which had drawn up alongside.

"Don't be worried," Surprises, the Magic Maker, said. "Nothing has happened, and you're not in an accident. It's merely that our boat is too large to go in the cave, even though it isn't a very big boat."

The boat into which they had now gone was like a very large rowboat.

"What cave are we going to see?" John asked. It seemed very curious to think of a cave right out in the water.

"Fingal's Cave," the Magic Maker answered.

Wagnerian Cycle From the Metropolitan.

Parts of six Wagnerian operas will be broadcast from the Metropolitan Opera House over the WJZ chain, beginning Friday afternoon, Feb. 12, and thereafter on alternate Thursdays and Fridays.

Maria Jerita will sing the leading roles. The performances will make up the Metropolitan's annual Wagnerian cycle. WJZ will carry the first of these broadcasts.

Of Interest Tomorrow Afternoon.

MEINDELBOHN'S "Fingal's Cave" overture and two movements from Tchaikovsky's Fourth symphony will be played in a concert at 3:10 tomorrow afternoon that is slated for WENR and WSM.

Anne Morgan, president of the American Woman's Association, will begin a series of three weekly talks at 2:15 tomorrow on the WJZ chain. Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt and Princess Der Ling, who once was lady-in-waiting to the Empress Dowager of China, will speak on Feb. 10 and Feb. 17.

With this week the Shadow will fade from the air after a relatively brief revival of his mystery drama. The Shadow is played by Frank Reddick.

One hundred Bavarian other players will play next Sunday afternoon in a concert from Germany over the WENF chain and KSD.

The cost of an hour of broadcasting from abroad to the NBC or CBS is about $1000.

Jack Kerr, a musical comedy singer, will be featured in a series of CBS programs soon as "The Voice of a Thousand Shouts." Radio program sponsors are becoming as extravagant in their burles as are the movies.

In Important Seaport at Eastern End of Cuba Report Heavy Property Damage in the Business District - Relief Work Begun.

SITUATION IN HAND, MAYOR ANNOUNCES

Many Buildings Wrecked - People Stampeded by Wild Rumors but Everything Will Be Normal Again in Few Days.

By the Associated Press. SANTIAGO, Cuba, Feb. 2.—Eight persons were killed and 300 injured in a series of nine earthquakes between midnight and dawn today.

Nearly every building in the city was damaged. Communication with the outside world was still very difficult late today.

The first shock, shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning, affected only the business district but work spread quickly and threw the city into a panic. Immediately thereafter came a flood of rumors which said 1500 had been killed and at least as many more injured. These rumors proved unfounded.

Mayor Aznar ordered the gas and electric services shut off to prevent fire and sent word to Havana that the local authorities could handle the emergency. Nevertheless, United States Ambassador Gustav Helm started from Havana by air.

Cuban Government officials also headed for Santiago and relief organizations mobilized facilities. In quick succession lighter shocks followed the first. The roof of a small maternity hospital collapsed and it was reported that a mother with new-born twins had been killed. The walls of the jail fell but most of the prisoners escaped. Those who were not hurt went to work with the police in such troops as were available cleaning up the debris and standing guard to prevent the looting of wrecked buildings.

The two tall towers of the cathedral were thought to have been cracked and it was feared they might topple into the street.

Help came by air from the United States fleet at nearby Guantanamo and the naval doctors set up emergency dressing stations for the injured.

Apparently the greatest damage was confined to the business section, although there were reports that the town of El Cobre, a few miles west, had been badly damaged and that the district of Vista Alegre had been affected.

The frightened residents of Santiago packed up enough food to last them for a while and went out into the open country. Stores were closed, train service was interrupted and there was practically no traffic on the streets. But the authorities said things would be back to normal again within a few days. This city, of about 130,000 population, on the southern coast of the island, was destroyed by an earthquake early in the nineteenth century, but was rebuilt and became the largest center in Eastern Cuba.

There was fighting around Santiago in 1898 in the Spanish-American War. San Juan Hill overlooks the city. It was in Santiago harbor that Lieut. Richmond Pearson Hobson sank the Merrimack in a heroic but unsuccessful attempt to bottle up the Spanish fleet.

8. Casualties Made Unsafe; No Americans Injured.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The United States consulate at Santiago was made unsafe by the earthquake. A report to the State Department today by Edwin Schoenrich, the Consul, gave preliminary estimates of damage to American firms as follows: Swift & Co., $100,000; Cuba Railroad, Hotel Casagrande, $20,000; P. W. Woolworth, $10,000. No Americans were injured.

Airplane Pilot Tells of Damage in Santiago Quake.

HAVANA, Feb. 3.—R. H. McGinnis, pilot for the Cuban Cauda Airways, who left Santiago by plane about 6 o'clock this morning after diving through the streets in an automobile, said "the first quake threw me out of bed at about quarter past one in the morning. It looked as though every light in town had been knocked out."
